

A VERY PARDONABLE MISTAKE FOR PETEY TO MAKE.

Sport Snap Shots

The title holders in the fight game are coming in for more than a deal of caustic comment lately. It seems to have stirred up the bile of many that present champions are not boxing often and don't seem willing to undertake mills with their dangerous rivals. Willie Ritchie has been mentioned in this connection before. And yet there seems to be some reason why Willie should not be judged too harshly. In the first place he's known to be the right sort and pretty nearly always on the level. And then again a siege of injuries and minor illnesses have kept him from the best of shape. Johnny Coulon has also been accused of hanging too tightly to his title. Mr. Williams' manager has been after Coulon till he is sick and tired of the pursuit. And lately a few unpleasant things have been said about Johnny Kilbane and it has been observed that he is trying to keep his title in a glass cage. I certainly is a trial to be in the public eye.

But Levinsky, the vigorous and active little New York pug, is going to make things unpleasant if possible.

COMISKEY VERY ILL AT HOTEL IN ROME

"Old Roman," Leader of Chicago White Sox Taken Seriously Ill on Tour Through Italy.

Rome, Feb. 10.—A consultation in regard to the condition of Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago club of the American league was held today between Dr. John Edward Jones, American consul general at Genoa, and Prof. Giuseppe Bastianelli, a leading Roman specialist. It was decided to submit Mr. Comiskey to an examination under the Roentgen rays.

On Tour of Italy. Dr. Jones related to the professor the circumstances under which he had been called to give medical attention to Mr. Comiskey, who was taken seriously ill yesterday while traveling by train from Naples to Rome, with the members of the Chicago and New York baseball teams.

Mr. Comiskey, who had been somewhat indisposed before boarding the train at Naples, suffered a severe chill after passing Castella and his symptoms rapidly became such that his wife and other relatives who were with him became alarmed. They called Dr. Jones who diagnosed the case as a severe attack of indigestion with marked cardiac symptoms.

On arriving Mr. Comiskey was taken to a hotel and his condition seemed to improve during the night.

Condition Improved. Today's consultation between Dr. Jones and Prof. Bastianelli lasted over an hour. The professor submitted the patient to a rigorous examination.

BRIDWELL'S A FED. REPORTS MORDECAI

Mordecai Brown, manager of the St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

St. Louis Federal league team, has confirmed the report that he has signed Al Bridwell, shortstop of the

AMUSEMENTS

Seymour, Dempsey and Seymour in New Edison Talking Pictures Program.

A big feature of the new bill which Thomas A. Edison will present at the Mayers Theatre on Thursday, matinee and night, and Friday, Feb. 12 and 13, in his remarkable perfected talking pictures, is a lovely vaudeville sketch featuring Seymour, Dempsey and Seymour, the well known ragtime entertainers. This number is a musical comedy, full of action and comedy from start to finish being entirely different from anything heretofore produced for the talking pictures. The piece, which is in two parts, is staged in a Rialto style, and the kaleidoscopic and frolic of the cabaret is shown at its height. Music, rapid-fire comedy, dancing and singing in this popular team's best style, hold the interest of the auditor every moment.

APOLLO THEATRE. A new bill opened at the Apollo last night, featuring three good acts.

Tom Sidney sang a number of parodies that were rather humorous. It is a safe bet to say he couldn't sing the right words to a song but must needs parody it. The Aerial Bioneys are first class aerial gymnasts with a program that is new. They won a round of applause last night from those who appreciate skill. The Rosdello Trio have three excellent voices, delighting the audience with every selection. Checkers, adapted to motion pictures from the great play, will be shown tonight and Wednesday and as a result all shows will start at least one-half hour earlier.

THE ROSDELLO TRIO. Who are making a decided hit at the Apollo.

PLAN FOR RACES ON THE ICE VERY SOON

Horsemen Will Decide Where Track Will Be Laid Out This Afternoon.

Lovers of good harness races will have an opportunity of watching some interesting ice matinee races in the near future, either on a course laid out on the Gas House pond, in Spring Brook or in Montevideo. All three locations offer excellent courses and the best will be selected and laid out. Janesville has some good performers on the ice and in past years interesting contests have been staged between Janesville and Beloit. If the ice holds out here and there is enough snow it is probable that similar events will be held this winter.

Advice. "Take my advice—never ask questions. Be content to make a fool of yourself once or twice, but don't ask questions. Don't answer questions, either. That's worse than asking. But, after all, now I'm giving advice, and worst of anything is listening to other people's advice."—From "Sinister Street," by Compton Mackenzie.

CHILDREN WHO ARE SICKLY

Children who want their own comfort and the welfare of their children, should never be without a box of Mother's Sweet Flowers for Children. For use throughout the season. They break up Colds, Relieve Feverishness, Constipation, Teething Disorders, Headache and Stomach Troubles. Used by Mothers for 21 years. "MOTHER'S SWEET FLOWERS" Sold by all Drug Stores, etc. How? accept any certificate. Sample mailed FREE. Address, Allen S. Oimsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

PRIZE SEAL CIGAR The Best 5c Cigar

Manufactured by J. J. WATKINS, Corn Exchange Square.

A Good Fuel Our Hardwood Kindling

makes an ideal fuel for all times of the year. It is clean, bone-dry and of convenient size to handle. It comes from maple flooring factories and is kiln-dried before it is shipped and we store it under cover.

Give us an order.

$2.50 Per Load Delivered

FIFIELD LUMBER CO.

NAME FIRST DATE FOR BOXING MATCH

Bower City Boxing Club to Stage First Bout on Twenty-Sixth at Myers Opera House.

Directors of the Bower City Boxing Club today filed the articles of incorporation and state charter under the Hedding state boxing law at the court house today and the date set for the club's first bout is February twenty-sixth. The articles of the charter show that the club is capitalized at two thousand dollars, the stock being made up in one hundred shares valued at twenty dollars per share. All stock is preferred and the directors declare that there is none for sale. Of the directors, George Ibrig is named as president, W. J. Murphy, secretary and Maurice Dalton, treasurer. Although no boxers have been signed, the directors promise a classy card at the first exhibition, consisting of three or four matches. The main bout will be for ten rounds, with six and eight round preliminaries. Efforts will be made to put on a fast main bout that will attract fans from Chicago and Milwaukee as well as cities in the immediate vicinity.

RIPON COLLEGE FIVE TRIM MILTON CHAMPS

Nearby Collegians Stand no Chance With Northerners Who Romped Away With Game, 31 to 7.

Ripon College basketball quintet romped away with the Milton College five on Saturday night at the latter's gymnasium, by a one-sided score of 31 to 7. The loss of Captain Grandall to the Milton team has put a crimp into their playing. The Ripon bunch played rings around Milton and showed real class. The line-up and score was as follows:

Milton—Nelson, 1 f.; A. Burdick and Lamb, 1 f.; Lush and Van Horn, 1 f.; White, 1 f.; Sorenson, 1 f. Ripon—Searles and Acheson, 1 f.; Reuping and Wyman, 1 f.; Wyman and Gilson, 1 f.; Howard, 1 f.; Kuebler, 1 f. Searles—Wyman, 6; Searles, Acheson, Howard, Kuebler, 2; Reuping 2; Nelson, 2; Van Horn. Free Throws—Wyman, 3; White. Referee—R. W. Huegel, Madison.

For Smoky Wall Paper.

A cloth dipped into flour and rubbed across a smoky spot on the ceiling cleaned it nicely. Later, the whole ceiling was cleaned in the same way with satisfactory results.

THE GOOD JUDGE AND THE FIREMAN

JUST a small chew of "Right-Cut," so small that nobody can notice it, gives you comfort and enjoyment that you never get from your old kind of tobacco.

"Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.

Made from ripe, mellow, sappy leaf, seasoned and sweetened just enough—and cut right, so you get the good of it. One chew lasts a long time.

The Real Tobacco Chew 10 Cents a Pouch

ASK your dealer today. If he doesn't sell "Right-Cut," send us 10 cents in stamps. We'll send you a pouch.

We guarantee it to be pure chewing tobacco and better than the old kind.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY 50 Union Square, New York

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS.

The Gazette does not knowingly accept false or fraudulent advertising or other advertising of an objectionable nature. Every advertisement in its columns is printed with full confidence in the character and reliability of the advertiser and the truth of the representations made. Readers of the Gazette will confer a favor if they will promptly report any failure on the part of an advertiser to make good any representation contained in a Gazette advertisement.

WEATHER FORECAST.

In this vicinity the weather will continue unsettled and cloudy, probably with occasional snow flurries. North-easterly winds will become variable, and the temperature rise slowly.

SLY OLD JOSEPH.

In its sporting editorials the Milwaukee Sentinel discusses a former Janesville resident who is a power in the baseball world and who did his first baseball tossing right here in the River City. The Sentinel says:

"After all, one has to hand it to old Joe Cantillon. Day after day, week after week, month in and month out, this merry old scout pursues the even tenor of his way, undisturbed by those thoughts of danger and disaster that make the nights of some baseball magnates hideous and undaunted by the wars and rumors of wars that send their hurrying bombs about his mahogany ears. From off the shining armor of equanimity, the shafts of threatened disaster to himself and team fall utterly harmless, and when the darkness is thickest, old Joe sees the brighter dawn and he suffers a tranquility that is worth all the world to its possessor.

"Joe Cantillon knows baseball from the inside and from the bench. He knows baseball players like a book. When the giant hand of calamity rises over the baseball horizon, old Joe is dead certain where there is a cyclone cellar and generally he is in the basement when the storm breaks. Jumping to the Federal league means about as much to Joe Cantillon as putting up a stall for 'another round.' He knows where there are men who will work for and he knows how to get them. The remark attributed to him about not caring a cent whether his men jumped or not is thoroughly characteristic and quite probably true. If all baseball men had themselves and their business under such perfect control, at all times, as Joe Cantillon there would be much more pleasure and profit to live."

SNOW AND ICE SPORTS.

Absence of ice and snow all winter up to this time, and the presence of both during the last week, serves to remind the older generation how much good, wholesome sport is associated with these two elements.

Although it is little practiced in this country, even when conditions are most favorable, there are few sports in all the category that furnish much more fun and excitement than coasting. Throughout Europe it is a recognized sport of great popularity and some of the most exciting matches imaginable are run over slides specially constructed. That it is wonderfully exhilarating and oftentimes dangerous does not detract in the least from its attractiveness.

Associated with coasting is tobogganing, a form of sliding that has become more popular in this part of the country than coasting—probably owing to lack of available courses and because it is less dangerous.

Akin to these, skiing is making progress in this part of the state and, no doubt, if our seasons were better adapted to the sport, it would recruit many more devotees.

Snowshoeing and skating are both excellent exercises and enjoyable practices, while iceboating is a corking sport. They simply have to have the right weather, though, to make them enjoyable.

But the one good old sport that demands cold and ice is curling, which even appeared before winter golf.

THE BIGGEST FACTORY.

Recently in the city of Madison, our state capital, two brothers met. One was from Iowa, the state so fertile and so green. The other lived in Dane county, near Madison. They went to Madison to take their farewell dinner together and the Iowa brother began looking over things and bragging about his home state, his home town.

"Why, Jim?" he said, "out home we have just established a factory that employs eleven hundred hands and has a payroll of a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars a year. It is a great institution. I tell you, Iowa is booming. We have just built a hundred thousand dollar factory. We have plans for another and I can say Iowa is waking up."

"His Dane county brother said nothing, but took him by the arm and led him to the west approach of the state capital park. "Look up there," he said, pointing to the state university. "There is a factory that beats your old factory out in Iowa all to hellow. Why we employ sixteen hundred hands up there and we pay OVER A HUNDRED AND FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS EVERY MONTH. Talk about your Iowa factory. Why we spend a couple of hundred thousand every year or two for some fool experiment or other and even now we have got a strike up there among the students."

form means. Go on back home and find out what the truth is before you come talking to me. There, you have it. Truth is stranger than fiction some times.

A noted French woman who has just completed a visit in Washington, deplors the Kenyon red light bill which does away with all the disorderly resorts in the nation's capital. She says that modern nations have come to look upon such resorts as a necessity. Perhaps they have, but when it is announced that they do not exist in Janesville and complaint is made to the authorities that they do, and nothing is done about it, perhaps the French visitor's words are really true. Nothing like enlightenment on public affairs after all.

Kenosha has its first test today, for or against, the adoption of the commission form of government. Janesville has furnished orators on both sides for so much per speech. One anti-advocate talked for an hour and a half and earned his money for the vote tonight will doubtless show that on the first attempt, as in Janesville, the commission form of government advocates lost. However, it will be a lesson well worth the money expended. The anti-element will find out that before long the general public will see where to lay the blame for violation of city ordinances and the means of redress.

A new course has been established at the state university—"The Gentle and Artistic Art of Striking." For full particulars apply to Dr. Bumpus, the fiscal agent of President Van Hise, who has not enough time between exploiting the Wisconsin Idea to attend to the duties of president of the state university that pays him his living wages. Some day Wisconsin will hire a university president who will be president of the university and not a vaudeville performer on the political circuit.

Wisconsin is a great big glorious state. It produces almost everything under the sun and it is a regret to many of its citizens that it is not known for its tobacco, its sugar beets, its dairy products rather than its real estate doctrines. Just now reform is spelled in mighty small italics by the farmers who are paying the taxes. However, a time will come when things will be different.

Governor McGovern is here tonight to address the Twilight club. Despite any differences in political opinion every citizen who is a member of this organization should attend out of respect to the state's chief executive to pay him the honor due him. Mr. McGovern is a big man and no one can gild him. They may differ with him, politically, but he is the governor of the state and demands respect and careful attention.

It is time for the present street commissioner to show he's worth his salt by enforcing the sidewalk cleaning ordinance, by seeing the street crossings are kept clean and otherwise enforcing the duties of his office. There is no excuse for lack of workmen for there are lots of patriots who are anxious for a city job just now.

The Khedive of Egypt has just seen his first baseball game. And probably there are Americans who used to think they would like to be the khedive.

St. Louis has an ordinance regulating the size of the whips the teamsters use. Why doesn't it go a step farther and regulate the size of the language they use?

A Berlin judge has ruled that it is not a crime for a man to sneeze. But it will be safer for him not to do it in the presence of a military officer.

Sex in suffrage may not be a national question, but it will be recalled that "race, color or previous condition of servitude" was.

"You are hundreds of jaw movements short." No, that isn't a message to John Lind, but a chewing gum advertisement.

It may be that the transparent waistcoat is expected to bring about a revival of the embroidered suspender industry.

The Mexican revolutionists declare that all they need is arms. But sometimes they seem to be more in need of legs.

It seems gradually to be working around all right. A woman in Seattle has been made to pay alimony.

Rubber backing for the armor on battleships? And think what the cost of automobile tires is already?

"Manana" has a new meaning in Mexico. It now signifies more shooting and more running away.

Mr. Caruso will be duly grateful if some genius will provide the market with safety spurs for stage wear.

On the Spur of the Moment

The Mossback. I'm an old-fashioned galeot, you see. None of them new-fangled gags for me. Don't come around with no modern schemes. I take no stock in inventors' dreams. I ain't got no use for no telephone. Foolishness piano I do not own. Don't talk to me of electric light. Kerosene lamp's what I use at night. I've got no use for a railroad train. New-fangled notions give me a pain. Old-fashioned stage coach was good enough. Didn't kill people or use 'em rough. What is the use of a fancy bath tub? Creek is the place for a feller to scrub. What is the use of a laundry, by gee, woman does all of the washin' fer me. They say I'm a mossback, an old-

I guess They're more than half right. I am free-to-confess That I can't take no stock in no up-to-date ways. I'd rather be back in the old-fashioned days; I am about three hundred years out And I am behind the procession a mile.

I'll prove it right now in one sentence, by gum. I'm agin' votes fer wimmen. Their place is in hum.

According to Uncle Abner. Anse Frisby and his wife ain't been home any night before 2 o'clock in the morning since they learned to tango.

Hank Tumms has kept his resolution not to drink a glass of whiskey this year. He drinks out'n a flask. Mrs. Hod Peters says there is only one currency issue that she is interested in, and that is how much she kin make 'n the old man fork over on Saturday night.

Lem Higgins had a good joke on four highwaymen who held him up going home the other night. They beat him over the head and left him unconscious and got away with what they thought was a pound of butter that he had bought at the grocery earlier in the evening. Lem says the joke is that it wasn't butter at all, but oleomargarine.

Hank Tumms says the sensible element of wimmen are now wearing it about the 'most nonsensical he has yet seen.

Anse Judson doesn't know just where he is goin' to git off. He bought a horseless piano on the installment plan and has worn it out before he has got it paid for.

The Easter Hat. Oh, Easter hat, Of thee I sing, Thou art a most Deceiving thing. A few yards of lace, A rooster's tail, In foremost place. The total cost Is ninety cents; That is to say, The first expense. They place it in The window and The women say It's "simply grand." The price they charge, Bad to relate, We got to pay—$12.98.

In the Wake of the News. A child born in Pennsylvania recently has six fingers on each hand. That child should have a great future as a pickpocket or a poker player.

Michigan girl disclosed a pin from her throat by singing ragtime. This is the only practical use for ragtime that has ever been discovered.

If John Lind doesn't learn how to talk he is never going to make much money on the Chautauqua circuit.

Twenty radium hospitals are to be given in this country, but who, oh, who will furnish the radium?

Speaking of the nation-wide get-together movement, several pugs have been doing it lately.

CAUGHT BY WIRELESS.

"Yes," said Mrs. Soen-So, to Mrs. U-don't say, "I have heard that no one ever lives very long after they have an X-ray operation. You see that green electricity that they shoot through you with those beams and machines, or something like that, sticks in the body until it disintegrates the bones. A man that used to drive a doctor's automobile went with my sister and he told her all about it. He was an awfully smart fellow, that is why the doctor fired him. He was afraid that the world and out too much about his business, and that isn't what they call professional ethics."

"Why you don't say?" said Mrs. U-don't say.

"Yes, it is too bad that they ever invented such a infernal machine. I heard a man who was in the room with one of those machines while it was running, say it was the devil's parlor. Yes, that is just what he called it. He said that green and blue sparks jump around, and run right through the poor man that is foolish enough to let them operate on him. And I knew a girl who got shot in the lung, and she had one of those X-ray operations and it never cured her at all; she died just a little while after they gave her the X-ray operation."

"You don't say," said Mrs. U-don't say.

"Yes, and why there's young Dr. Curren, he'll back me up in what I've said. He isn't like most of the doctors, he cured my brother's little girl of the croup, and didn't charge a thing because my brother was out of work. Oh-oh Dr. Curren, come here won't you. We want to ask you something. Tell us about those X-ray operations that we have been hearing about."

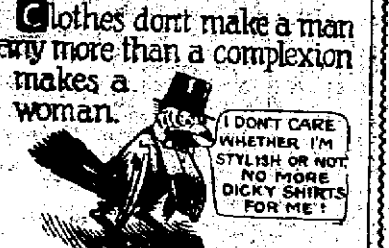

"Yes do," says Mrs. U-don't say. "Well, we do not call them operations as a rule. You see the X-ray machine is merely for the purpose of taking a preliminary examination. When it was first invented it was thought that it had curative properties, but that idea has been generally discarded. Through the use of the X-ray machine it is no longer necessary to use a knife until the seat of the trouble is definitely located. The principle upon which this machine works is a globe called a Röntgen tube through which a strong current of electricity is passed. This light is so strong that the body becomes transparent under its influence. However, any bodies containing metallic substances are more difficult for the light to pass through, consequently they cast a shadow. If anyone were shot, an X-ray picture should determine the exact location of the bullet. If a bone is fractured, the greater density of the bone will cause a deeper shadow, and the exact nature of the fracture may be easily discovered. In the later machines, the light tube is surrounded by a heavy bowl which prevents the patient from being burned by the flash. The process under the most recent improvement is as simple as the taking of an ordinary photograph. When people become educated to the use of the X-ray machine, they will not hesitate to have an X-ray picture of their interior furnishings whenever they have the slightest disorder."

"You don't say," said Mrs. U-don't say.

The world really isn't as bad as some of the people who talk about it. Clothes don't make a man any more than a complexion makes a woman.

FEB-10 Today is rather doubtful. Avoid superiors and be on the safe side. If this is your birthday watch your health. Excitement and disputes may cause trouble.

$100 Reward, $100
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
Address: J. C. HENNEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio
Sold by all Druggists.
Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Lyric and Majestic Theaters

It was a quaint old sun dial, in a quaint old Florida garden, but its message was tragic. The response, though, was quick, and two hearts were made happy. See Mabel Trunnelle and Elsie MacLeod in "The Message of the Sun Dial," tonight also Carlyle Blackwell in the two-part Kaleid feature "The Masquerader," and three other photoplays.

John Bunny and Flora Finch appear tomorrow in "Love's Old Dream," and Francis X. Bushman in the two-reel Essanay drama "Through the Storm," a railroad story of unusual power. Among other pictures also, views showing the excitement at the Ford plant over the ten million plan, and views of the greatest storm in years at the Golden Gate, San Francisco.

Arthur V. Johnson appears Thursday in "The Blinded Heart," and the same program includes "Hearts of Women," two-part Vitagraph.

"The Marriage of Figaro" will be shown Friday at the regular nickel admission charge, not withstanding its unusual nature. Remember, it was made at the Seville (Spain) studio of one of the foremost Italian producers.

"The Adventures of Kathryn" will be continued a week from next Saturday with "The Temple of the Lion."

EXTRA SPECIAL Apollo Theatre EXTRA SPECIAL

THOS. W. ROSS and cast of Broadway favorites in Henry M. Blossom, Jr.'s greatest success adapted to motion pictures—Replete with human interest—full of thrilling situations and crammed full of ginger, get-up and go.

6 Great Parts. 250 Novel Scenes. 100 Actual Punches.

Resdell Trio Three people with wonderful voices, rendering a varied program of vocal selections.	Tom Sidney The Parody King, a singing comedian with a bunch of novel songs.	Aerial Rooneys High class aerial gymnasts and trapeze artists. An act that draws applause.
--	---	--

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL, GLOSSY HAIR! NO MORE DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Hair coming out? If dry, thin or faded here's an inexpensive, delightful tonic—Grows hair. Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff—or falling hair—and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy, and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty, and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that all you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

WHAT IS A "BUNNY-FINCH?"

It is a term that reviewers use, and the very thought of it drives away dull care. Read the Lyric-Majestic notes on this page, and then make a guess.

MYERS THEATRE

Where the Best Motion Pictures Are Shown. The Home of the Universal Films. SPECIAL TONIGHT 5c
Champion picture, "Right Shall Prevail," a splendid drama. Nestor, with Wallace Reid and Dorothy Davenport in "Fires of Conscience." Animated Weekly showing current events from all over the world. Frontier picture, "Slim and the Money Pot," a howling western comedy.

VALENTINES

We have made a special effort to procure the very latest in Valentine Novelties, at a small cost—from one cent to 25 cents.

Valentine Postal Cards by the thousand, at 1c, 2c, 3c and 5c.

COME TO THE OLD RELIABLE FOR VALENTINES.

SUTHERLAND'S

Fragrant Flowers For Valentines

Appropriately boxed in Valentine Boxes ready for shipment.

Delightfully fragrant, beautiful cut flowers make the best Valentine you can send her.

There's nothing she will appreciate quite as much as flowers.

Janesville Floral Co.

Edw. Amerphol, Prop.
50 So. Main Street. Both Phones.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Cleaning House:

We're cleaning house now and doing it with a vengeance. When we start a movement here at the Big Store we see it through and that's what we're doing with our Odd Lot Clean Up Sale. Never have we offered such bargains, we don't believe we will ever do so again. They're the absolute pinnacle of bargain-giving. A delight for the heart of the seeker for bargains and the economically inclined. Come soon; things are moving with great rapidity and will not last long.

Beauty And The Camera

Beauty is but skin deep they say. But that's deep enough for OUR camera and OUR skill enables us to accentuate the best features of each sitter, with a pleasing, satisfactory likeness as the result.

MOTL STUDIO

115 W. Milwaukee St.
New Phone Red 1215.

CAPUDINE

ADOSE-1
HICKS' CAPUDINE
IN A LITTLE WATER
CURES HEADACHE
COLDS AND GRIPPE
SOLD AT WELL-STOCKED DRUG STORES

Artificial Teeth That Stay Up.

There's a new patented way of making artificial teeth stay tight. It's the best system I ever saw. Let me show you.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS
PAINLESS DENTIST
Office Over Hall & Sayles.

Make Your Savings Account a Live One.

The mere fact that you have a savings account here on which you once deposited a small sum, does not make you a real saver. The account that does not grow larger usually grows smaller and is finally closed. Add to it every week or month and with the added interest you will soon have an account worth while.

The First National Bank

Established 1855.

For Prompt Attention

Phone your order to the Smith Drug Co., 114 Rock Co.; 473 Bell; Private phone 497 Black; Res. 257 Rock Co.; 357 Bell.

Piano Moving a Specialty
Build special size piano boxes to order.

C. W. SCHWARTZ
TRANSFER & STORAGE CO.

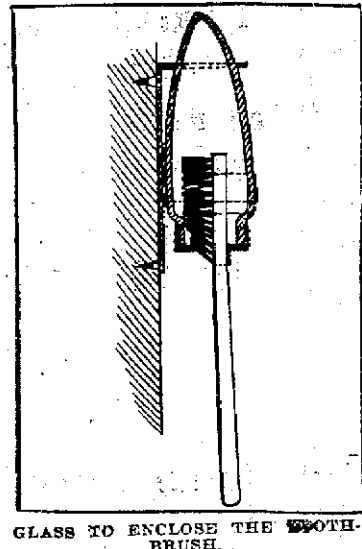

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR RENT—Modern five-room flat facing the park. E. N. Fredendall. 49-2-10-14.

KEEPS THE DUST FROM THE TOOTH BRUSH

The Bristles Are Protected by a Covering of Glass.

The latest thing in toothbrush holders not only secures the brush when not in use, but also protects it from the contamination likely to be imparted by the dust, which is likely to settle upon it. The new invention consists of a glass bottle which has a hole at the top large enough to permit of the passage of the bristles end of the brush, but hardly big enough to permit of the passage of any considerable amount of dust. In the lower end of this bottle there is a smaller hole, to permit the escape of any water which might drop from the brush after use.

GLASS TO ENCLOSE THE TOOTH BRUSH.

The bottle is secured to a metal base, which, in turn, is fastened to the wall. It will be readily seen how this device will fully perform the mission for which it is designed.

GOOPS

By GELETT BURGESS

WILLIAM ARNO

Will Arno's feet were very wet. But he refused to go and get dry stockings on, as he was told. And so Will Arno caught a cold. Are you a Goop? Or, do you try To keep your shoes and stockings dry?

Don't Be A Goop!

PRISON SENTENCE OF THREE YEARS GIVEN

MAXIMUM TERM GIVEN CONFESSED BURGLAR WITH LONG RECORD.

SENT BACK TO WAUPUN

Forty-two Years in Imprisonment Not Enough for W. M. Conlin, So He Is Handed Another Bit.

Not satisfied with having served forty-two years in sentence in various prisons throughout the country, W. M. Conlin, who is now aged thirty-five, was this morning sentenced to a three-year term at Waupun by Judge Maxwell, pleading guilty to having broken into the residence of Reverend Henry Willman late Monday afternoon, and stealing two coats.

Conlin was not only broke into the Willman residence, but later walked into the police station and told what he had done. The man evidently expected a light sentence, perhaps in jail, for his act, but was handed the limit under the law by the judge this morning on his plea of guilty, with a small book in which prisoners on the prison farm at Waupun, where he may be cared for during his declining years.

Conlin has had a most picturesque life, to read the little book he peddled during his various terms in different state prisons during various terms, which total forty-two years. Born at Plattville, this state, Conlin began his criminal career at an early age and has continued it at the expiration of each separate sentence. Recently he has sold a small book telling of his own prison sentences and it was due to the fact he could obtain no more copies that he alleged he committed the crime Monday which led to his conviction and another prison sentence.

He made a clever job at Mr. Willman's, cutting his way into the house through a window and then thoroughly ransacking the lower floor in search of food. He could not have been at work more than fifteen minutes, but made a thorough job while he was at it. He took two coats but could find no other valuables, he said caused him to commit the act.

Conlin gave the coats to an acquaintance whom he met in a bar-room to sell and bring him back a dollar. Two hours later Conlin walked into the station and gave himself up. He was closely questioned and appeared under the influence of some drug, opium probably, and on giving a description of the man who took the coats, Officer Thomas Morris arrested a crippled beggar, who was sentenced this morning on a charge of drunkenness. Conlin said he committed the crime not only to appease his hunger, but gave himself up knowing that he would be sentenced to prison, which he regarded as "home."

Whether from the effects of the drug, or a yearning for excitement, the robbery, Conlin stated, was committed half an hour in the Olin & Olson jewelry store and had made preparations to crack the safe. The police scouted this plan, for in his present condition Conlin would be helpless to attempt a store robbery, and the general belief that he was covering the store for companions in crime.

The man first appeared in Janesville three weeks ago, and during his stay here was closely watched by the police. From here he journeyed to Beloit, where he lived on the sale of his books. On his return here two days ago the police discovered that the crippled beggar was on the same train and their movements have been under watch.

In telling the police the story of his life, Conlin stated he was born at Plattville, Wisconsin, July 4th, 1848, and when eleven years old his mother died, leaving him an orphan. He was taken care of by a bad company soon cultivated a desire for stealing. Plying from his relations, where he was staying only increased his acquaintance with a professional safe blower started further on the life of crime. While hardly more than a boy he, together with the safe blower, were caught turning a trick at Westchester, Pennsylvania, and for the first time was sentenced to four years in the prison but the judge taking his age into consideration, reduced the sentence to seven years. At that time the prisoners were not conducted as now, and Conlin was sent to the Quaker institution at Cherry Point. On entering he stated that a black hood was placed over his face and for several years was restricted to solitary confinement in two cells, one of which was a work cell. Hardened by the seven years' imprisonment, he was released back into crime.

In Lancaster, Ohio, he was sentenced to seven years for house breaking and served the term in the Columbus state prison, which had been declared nothing short of slavery, for the convict system of working convicts was in vogue then.

Punishment in brutal form was meted out to those who were unable to complete their tasks and "ducking troughs," "bull ring," and confinement in the "hole" were the tortures given the unruly. Branded as a criminal, he did not attempt to work and later he was sentenced to the Territorial House, Indiana, to the Jefferson prison for three and one-half years. Here the practice of using the cat-of-nine-tails was used and repeated punishment meted out to the use of the cat-of-nine-tails, as he called it, and ended the sentence of punishment.

From Indiana Conlin drifted into his home state of Wisconsin, where he was tried and found guilty of picking pockets and highway robbery in the Racine court. He was sentenced to four years at Waupun, but later the sentence was shortened to two and one-half years. At the Stillwater, the convict declared better treatment was there than in the state prison, and he was sent to the Stillwater, where he was sentenced to four years. He was later sent to Stillwater for two and one-half years.

a jewelry store in the city of Lincoln. Both received a two and a half year sentence in the state prison at Jeffersonville. Here, Conlin told, the police he was hanged by his wrists to the bars of a solitary confinement cell for thirteen consecutive days, being let down only at night for a little sleep, for inciting a strike among the convicts against bad food.

When he was a free man again, he attempted to "sow" a safe in Mound Valley, Kansas, and was caught and sentenced to the state prison at Lansing for a solitary confinement cell for a year. Conlin told, for a term of five years. Under the influence of opium the prisoner admitted he was unruly and refused to abide by the prison rules, and was severely punished, being tortured with the "crib," a coffin-shaped box in which prisoners were confined for days at a time.

For striking a convict foreman in the tailor shops who, Conlin claims, was a brother to the famous Jack Dalton, he was punished in solitary confinement. After spending 1,728 days in the darkened cell, he was released from the state prison at Lansing for a term of twenty-five years at Jefferson City prison, in Missouri. Here his unruly spirit caused great trouble and for attempting to kill one of the guards with a saddle tree, was whipped regularly. Unable to stand the constant repeated beatings he was put in the so-called "lazy ward" where lighter tasks were given.

The whipping post at this prison was nicknamed "old hall," and Conlin bears a six-inch scar on the top of his head which he declares resulted from being struck with a club while lashed to the bars. After serving eleven years and eight months Conlin was pardoned and made a living selling books since that time.

When searched the police found a prayer book on his person which Conlin said he had given him in Cedar Rapids, and that he had always carried it for the giver of the testament had tried to make him leave his nefarious trade and live straight, but the old calling always pulled him back to the life of crime.

"Prison to me is home, and with my broken life I cannot hope to live through many more sentences. Torture and abuse results from every crime and crime results from bad companions, which would be a waste of time, for I am now fifty-five years of age, and deducting the years I have actually spent in prison, I have had just twenty-three years of freedom."

In speaking of going back to Waupun the man said: "It will probably be my last sentence, and I hope I may have a right, and it is likely to be my last home."

LOWTH RE-ELECTED TO MANAGE SCHOOL

Miss Ella Jacobson Will Also Continue as Assistant Principal of Training School.

At a meeting of the county training school board held Saturday evening at Superintendent Antsdel's office, Prof. F. J. Lowth was re-elected as principal of the school for another year, beginning July 1st. Miss Ella Jacobson, assistant principal, was also re-elected. The board voted in favor of a six weeks' summer session which will begin the latter part of June.

It was decided to ask the county board for an appropriation of $1,500, plus $500 for the summer school, $2,000 in all. The salaries of the faculty are paid by the state. These salaries were increased for the coming year, but both principal and assistant are to spend at least $50 a year visiting rural schools.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

Myers Hotel: O. A. Rather, Miss A. E. Popelman, H. W. Reynolds, E. O. Swanson, H. A. Loomis, Milwaukee; D. E. Bull, W. F. Ballinger, Racine; Frank W. Doring, Burlington; W. J. Wiels, E. C. Culbertson, Madison; J. D. Donahue, Lancaster; W. Doolittle, Dora Doolittle, Stoughton; H. W. Burmeister, Gratiot; E. T. Cass, White-water; W. L. Henningson, Cumberland.

Grand Hotel: C. A. Ray, Albert Magnus, J. I. Mahoney, W. C. Yockey, M. Grooman, A. McGulley, W. E. Curtis, H. O. Patterson, A. H. Madsen, W. C. Spencer, J. H. Anderson, A. B. Chadwick, L. W. Bourman, H. W. Love, E. E. McGilbert, A. Hopstetter, John Keys, E. J. Erickson, Milwaukee; F. H. Williams, Philip W. Jones, Fort Atkinson; W. T. Taylor, Beloit; R. Ryan, Madison; Frank Stoppach, H. L. Bornheimer, Jefferson; Wm. Schneider, Johnson Creek; R. S. Origo, Kenosha; M. J. McGowan, Chippewa Falls; Wm. Lee, Marshfield; F. G. Vaughn, L. W. Wood, Appleton; C. W. Brown, Dodgeville; E. E. Kohlhasse, Watertown; F. J. Dudley, Green Bay.

CHILDREN GIVE PROGRAM FOR D. A. R. GATHERING

Mrs. George S. Parker Entertains This Afternoon at Home on Court Street.

Mrs. George S. Parker entertained the D. A. R. at her home on Court street at half past two this afternoon. It was children's day, and a program given by the children. The Misses Johan, Esther, Friselle, Nancy, Jane Muggleton gave a dance, a piano solo was given by Wilhelmina Pfennig. Miss Virginia Parker and Esther Muggleton danced the Highland fling, and piano solos were given by two other children. After the program refreshments were served.

EARTHQUAKE TESTS PANAMA CANAL.

The recent earthquakes at Panama have demonstrated conclusively the stability of Gatun Dam, the great structure that holds in check the waters of the Chagres River and forms the largest artificial lake in the world. Gatun Dam is nothing whatever like a mill dam. It is not a high, straight wall of masonry, but rather an artificial hill with a gentle slope that is hardly recognized as a dam at all by the tourist.

In fact the growth of jungle already is covering it over and, as the Goethals said to a correspondent of the "Isthmus," "Thirty years from now people will wonder where we put all the money we spent down here, for by that time nearly the whole canal will have the aspect of a natural, and not an artificial waterway."

The story of the great Gatun Dam and the controversy that waged about it, now definitely settled by an earthquake, is told in the most remarkable book of the year, "The Panama Canal," by Frederic H. Harkin. Canis is the book The Janesville Gazette is offering to its readers at the bare cost of manufacture and handling. Save the coupon printed in another part of today's issue.

Bring your butter and eggs to the Cooksville store, A. Skibrek.

HERMIT OF HANOVER MISSED FOR A YEAR AT INSANE ASYLUM

Authorities of Jefferson County Institution Will Take Charge of Man Now Held at Jail.

Sheriff C. S. Whipple received word from Jefferson county today that Adam Rathel, known throughout western Rock county as the "hermit of the marsh," had been missing for over a year from the Jefferson county asylum for the insane. Ever since his escape his whereabouts have been a mystery to the authorities at Jefferson. Rathel, who is a native of Jefferson, has been unavailing. Sheriff Whipple has received instructions to hold Rathel for asylum officials who are expected late today or tomorrow to return the fugitive to the institution. Rathel was captured at Rockford on Friday last by deputy sheriff following a five-mile chase in a snow storm. He was subsequently sentenced to a ten days' jail term on the ground of vagrancy. When Sheriff Whipple was notified of the escape, he learned that he had a brother living at Fort Atkinson he wrote to him apprising him of the situation, and received a reply today telling of the facts as outlined above.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kramer left for their home in Rockford today after an over Sunday visit with local relatives.

Mrs. John Carroll of Beloit is visiting friends in this city. Mr. C. H. Chicago spent Sunday in Janesville.

Patrick Chandler of Madison is a business visitor in the city. James Smith of Beloit spent Monday in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Joyce of Chicago are in Janesville today. Miss Maria Shotwell of this city is spending the week with her sister in Rockford.

Neal Rogers of Rockford spent Saturday and Sunday in this city. Frank Caldwell of Racine is a business visitor in the city.

Miss Mary Graham of Harvey, Ill., spent the past week with relatives in this city, leaving for Madison this morning to visit her sister, Mrs. John Brum.

Andrew Olson and John Kennon of Stoughton spent Monday in Janesville.

Mrs. Tom Williams of Geneva spent Saturday and Sunday in this city.

Miss Frances Kelley of Beloit is spending the day in Janesville.

Patrick Foran of Madison is a business visitor in Janesville today.

Frank Irish of Ashland is in Janesville today.

Jacob Becker of New Glarus is a business visitor in Janesville.

Frank Farnsworth of Necedah spent Saturday and Sunday in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lott Swan were entertained at a one o'clock dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lamb, 1218 Ruger ave., Monday.

Paul Persson of Hamilton, Canada, is visiting his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Persson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest E. Kraus have leased the lower part of LaBrie Foster's residence at 403 East Milwaukee street and will take possession about March 1st.

Mrs. Lottie Fullerton and daughter, Ella, returned to their home after spending a few days, the guests of friends and relatives in Milwaukee.

The Rev. C. J. Roberts of the United Brethren church, returned yesterday from a Wisconsin visit, preached on Sunday and attended the business meeting of the quarterly conference held in Rutland last evening.

Mrs. C. S. Jackman will entertain an auction bridge club on Wednesday afternoon.

William Ruger, Jr., transacted business in Beloit today.

Hugh McCoy went to Madison this morning on a business of several days. The Otterbein brotherhood of the United Brethren church will hold their monthly meeting on Wednesday evening of this week. Supper will be served at seven o'clock.

A debate will be held in the evening the question will be, Resolved: That the high cost of living is due mainly to high living. An interesting evening is anticipated.

The Woman's Missionary Society will be held at the Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30. The Westminster guild will meet at 8 o'clock and other ladies are invited to hear Mrs. Dyrast of Milwaukee, a returned missionary from Egypt.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Lewis of Jackson street will leave this evening for New Orleans on Feb. 15, and will make an extended trip.

Mrs. Charles Gage will entertain twelve ladies at a one o'clock luncheon on Thursday, Feb. 12, at her home on South Second street.

Mrs. J. S. Taylor of 236 North Washington street will entertain the Help Circle of the Baptist church this evening.

Robert Cunningham and Stanley Metcalf have returned to Madison to resume their studies at the university.

St. Margaret's guild of Trinity church will give a luncheon at the guild hall on Wednesday for the members.

Mrs. Sue McManus has returned from a Chicago trip of several days. Mrs. Edna Blodgett has returned to Beloit after spending a few days at home in this city.

Thursday afternoon Circle No. 3 of the M. E. church will give a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Edwin Carpenter will entertain an auction bridge club on Friday afternoon.

The University club will meet on Friday afternoon with Miss Florence Palmer of Court street.

The Reading Circle will meet on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. A. F. Lovejoy on St. Lawrence avenue.

The club will give a dinner at Terpsichorean hall on Friday evening, preceding the dance.

E. V. Whiton, left for Milwaukee this morning, where he will spend the week.

William Ruger, Jr., and Mrs. Alice Sale will entertain at two o'clock luncheons this week. The first one will be given on Wednesday, Feb. 11, and the second one on Thursday, Feb. 12th. They will be given at the home of Mrs. William Ruger on Court street.

Mrs. Norman Carle has issued invitations to a one o'clock luncheon on Saturday, Feb. 14th, at her home on St. Lawrence avenue. She will also entertain on Monday, Feb. 16, at a luncheon.

Harvey Gilmore of Edgerton spent Sunday in this city with friends.

Mrs. Bert Heimstreet of Palmyra is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gage, this week.

Mrs. Frank Jackman went to Chicago this morning to spend a few days.

The Young Men's Club of the Presbyterian church will meet on Wednesday evening. Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. A. S. Parker and daughter of Clinton have returned home after a visit in Janesville.

The Misses Gladys Hill and Frances Brown of this city spent the week and with friends in Edgerton. Stanley Judd of Beloit college spent Sunday and Monday at his home in this city.

Miss Grace Austin of Broadhead has returned home after a visit in Janesville.

Mrs. P. H. Garvin of Clinton was a recent visitor in Janesville.

Miss Cecil Wentworth of Edgerton spent Monday in this city.

Mrs. Mary E. Corper of Lake Geneva was a Janesville visitor the first of the week.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Phelps at their home at 504 North Third street on Friday last. Miss Rose Munson left today for De Kalb for a two weeks' visit with her parents.

Stanley Judd of Beloit college is in the city visiting his parents.

Mrs. J. J. Callahan has been visiting Mrs. J. J. Callahan for a few days.

Attend our February Clearing Sale and save money. T. P. Burns.

HEARING TESTIMONY IN ASSAULT TRIAL

Draw Jury of Six To Hear Case Charging Hutchenson With Assault and Abusive Language.

Arguments and testimony were heard by the municipal court this morning in the trial against William Hutchenson charged with assault and abusive language by Richard Finley. The case is being tried by a jury composed of Harry Keller, L. A. Babcock, C. Hemmings, W. F. Wobis, F. Buggs and W. F. Stendell.

After the jury was completed J. L. Cunningham outlined his case for the defense of Hutchenson and E. H. Ryan, addressed the jury on the nature of the crime, alleged in the warrant.

From the attorney's arguments it appears that Hutchenson had been in the crockery store at the time the assault was made, and the warrant resulted in the defendants demand for his share of the proceeds.

TIRE ON DRIVEWHEEL OF ST. PAUL ENGINE BREAKS CAUSING DELAY

The tire on one of the drivelwheels, of the large locomotive, pulling passenger train number 131 into this city from Chicago at ten-thirty in the morning, broke today, and tied up the passenger traffic at the St. Paul station this morning for about an hour.

The accident occurred just as the train was pulling out of the station. The engine was shifted to the sidetracks, which was close by, and the tower man at Avalon at once notified the local station of the trouble. An engine was sent out to the scene, to pull the engine back to the main track. The delay, however, had farmers bring them to this city with teams.

JANESVILLE MINISTERS HOLD ANNUAL ELECTION AT REGULAR SESSION

The members of the Janesville Ministerial association held their regular meeting yesterday morning at the home of the Y. M. C. A. building. As there was no necessary business to be transacted, the ministers resorted to open discussion of vital questions.

The annual election of officers took place. Rev. C. J. Roberts of the United Brethren church, being chosen as president, with Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister, of the St. Peter's English Lutheran church, chosen secretary and treasurer.

GIVES "SANKO" COOLEY A TWO WEEKS' PAROLE

When Sam "Sanko" Cooley was brought before Judge Maxfield in municipal court yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, the defending attorney, E. F. Carpenter, maintained that there was some question of Cooley's being guilty of the charge of drunkenness and that he had obtained work and was behaving himself.

Considering the number of times that the defendant has been brought before the court, Judge Maxfield refused to dismiss the case, but paroled Cooley and gave him a two weeks' parole. February twenty-fourth. He was given the two weeks to make good and at the end of his parole will be brought before court to report on his behavior.

At the time of his arrest Cooley pleaded no guilty, knowing that his past record was against him.

Complete stock of groceries, oil, gasoline, flour, and salted fish at the Cooksville store. A. Skibrek.

Shaker Flannel 44c per yard. T. P. Burns.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Reported Improved: Miss L. M. Doo of 202 North Third street, who was at Mercy Hospital, Chicago, for an operation by Dr. Murphy, is reported as much improved.

Janesville Chapter No. 69, O. E. S., regular meeting will be held in the hall at Wednesday evening at 7:30, with work.

Regular meeting of the L. A. A. O. H. Wednesday evening, February 11, 1914, in the Caledonia rooms.

MARY E. HEFFERMAN.

Circle No. 6 of the M. E. church will meet with Mrs. Hubbard, 270 South Jackson street, Friday. All day meeting, picnic dinner.

MRS. HORWOOD.

Regular meeting of Crystal Camp No. 132, R. N. A. Wednesday evening, February 11. All members are requested to be present as there will be initiation and other business of importance brought before the camp.

SALLIE LUTHERS, Oracle, LUCAS E. MASON, Recorder.

Circle No. 1 of the M. E. church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., with Mrs. F. Rice, Oak Hill.

MRS. OWEN, President.

Special prices on flour in 5 and 10 sack lots, also on sugar in 100-lb. sacks. The Cooksville Store. A. Skibrek.

The praise meeting of the Woman's Presbyterian Missionary Society will be held this evening at seven-thirty. Mrs. Dyrast of Milwaukee, who was to have addressed the meeting, is ill, but another speaker will be present.

Calicos at 44c per yard. T. P. Burns.

Those planning to attend the Home Gathering Dinner at Congregational Church and have not notified the Committee will please do so not later than Wednesday noon.

Rather Risky.

The man who always closes his eyes to the unsightly things in life is apt to slip up on a banana peel.

FAMILY OF SEVEN DRIVEN FROM HOME BY MIDNIGHT FIRE

Children Driven From Beds Into Bitter Cold When Flames Destroy House on Lay Farm, West of Layden.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoesley and their five small children, who live on what is known as the Edward Layden farm, a mile and a half west of Layden, in the town of Center, were hastily driven from their beds into the bitter cold early today when flames destroyed their home shortly after midnight. A defective chimney, it is believed to have been the cause of the fire. Practically everything in the house was destroyed as the flames gained headway rapidly so that the children barely escaped with what clothing they could hastily gather together.

The Hoesley family had been spending the evening at a neighbor's home and returned about eleven o'clock. Shortly after retiring smoke was discovered but efforts to get at the source of the flames failed. At this time the whole house was afire and the family made haste to escape with their lives.

As the house stands well apart from the other farm buildings and there was no wind, the fire was confined to the residence. The loss is estimated at several thousand dollars partially covered by insurance. The place is owned by two daughters of the late Edward Lay. The Hoesley family has been provided with temporary quarters at the home of a neighbor.

IS READY TO RETURN COUNTY'S STATE TAX

County Treasurer Will Turn Over $176,375 to State Treasurer on Saturday.

County Treasurer Livermore is ready to turn over the county's share of the state taxes to the state treasurer and will send $176,375.99 to that official on Saturday, as Monday is the day on which returns must be made. The total state tax collected in Rock county was $232,938.31 last year; $5,712.23 against $15,967.93 last year; Janesville paid $14,451.65 as against $1,839.38 last year; Edgerton paid $7,877.76 and Evansville $6,311.96.

The payment of this large sum to the state treasurer will make necessary to the calling in of deposits in the outlying depositories of the county and the country banks will have very small balances of county funds on hand after this week, until the final

HOG MARKET STRONG, PRICES GO HIGHER

Climb Toward $9 Mark Gets a Ten Cent Boost Today.—Cattle and Sheep Steady.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—The demand for hogs was brisk at the opening of trade today and prices were five and ten cents higher than yesterday. The best marks were within fifteen cents of the $9 mark. Receipts were 24,000. The cattle and sheep markets were steady with few changes in prices. Quotations follow:

Cattle—Receipts 3,500; market steady; beefs 7.10@9.50; Texas steers 6.90@8.10; western steers 6.55@7.90; stockers and feeders 5.50@8.00; cows and heifers 3.60@4.60; calves 7.50@10.25.

Hogs—Receipts 24,000; market strong, 5c@10c above yesterday's average; light 8.60@8.85; mixed 8.55@8.85; heavy 8.45@8.85; rough 8.45@8.55; pigs 7.65@8.65; bulk of sales 8.70@8.80.

Sheep—Receipts 22,000; market steady; native 4.70@5.50; western 4.80@6.00; yearlings 5.70@6.85; lambs native 6.80@7.80; western 6.85@7.85.

Butter—Unchanged. Receipts 7,986 cases; cash at market, cases included 25¢@27¢; ordinary firsts 23¢@26¢; prime firsts 27¢.

Cheese—Unchanged. Potatoes—Unchanged. 50 cars. Poultry—Alive: lower fowls 10¢; turkeys 16¢; springs 12¢.

Wheat—May: Opening 93½; high 94; low 93½; closing 93½; July: Opening 88½; high 89¼; low 88½; closing 88½.

Corn—May: Opening 65½; high 66½; low 65½; closing 65½; July: Opening 64½; high 65½; low 64½; closing 64½.

May—Opening 39; high 39½; low 38½; closing 39½; July: Opening 39; high 39½; low 38½; closing 39½.

Rye—61½. Rye—49@70.

RETAIL MARKET.

Janesville, Wis., Feb. 9, 1914.

Vegetables—Potatoes, 90c per bu.; cabbage, 7¢ per head; head lettuce, 10¢ to 12¢; carrots, 2¢ per lb.; cranberries, 15c per lb.; beets, 2¢ per lb.; Texas onions, 5c apiece; Spanish onions, 7c lb.; rutabagas, 2c lb.; parsnips, 2¢ per lb.; peppers, best quality, 5c each; sweet potatoes, 5c per lb.; French ends, 55c per lb.; Brussels sprouts, 22c per qt.; pea plant, 7c per bunch; fresh tomatoes, 15c per lb.; parsley, 5c a bunch; radishes, 10c bunch; leaf lettuce, 5c per bunch; cauliflower, 10¢ to 15¢ per head; green onions, 2¢ for 5c bunch.

Fruit—Oranges, 18 to 40c per doz.; bananas, 15¢@20¢ doz.; pineapples, 15 to 25c apiece; eating apples, 4 to 10c per lb.; grapes, cluster, red and white, 2¢@25¢ per lb.; Malaga, 15 to 25c per lb.

Butter—Creamery, 31¢@30¢; dairy, 28¢.

Eggs—30 cents doz.; strictly fresh, 23¢@25¢ per dozen.

Cheese—20¢ to 25¢ per lb. Oleomargarine—18¢@22¢ per lb. Pure Lard—16¢@17¢ per lb.; lard compound, 15c per lb.

Honey—15 to 20c per lb. Nuts—English walnuts, 25c per lb.; black walnuts, 5c per lb.; hickory nuts, 5¢@6¢ per lb.; Brazil nuts, 22¢ to 25c per lb.; peanuts, 10¢@15¢ per lb.; almonds, 25c per lb.; filberts, 15¢@25¢ per lb.

Popcorn—5¢@10¢ per lb. Oats—1¢ per qt.

Fresh Fish—Friday's Market—Trout, pike, halibut, salmon, 18c per lb.; bullheads, perch, 16¢@18c per lb.

JANESVILLE WHOLESALE MARKET.

Janesville, Wis., Feb. 9, 1914.

Straw, Corn, Oats—Straw, $6.50@7.00; baled hay, $10@12; loose small demand; oats, 33¢@40¢; barley, $1.00 to $1.05 per 100 lbs.; new corn, $12@13.

Poultry—Dressed hens, 15c; dressed young springers, 14c; geese, live, 11c; dressed, 14c; turkeys, dressed, 20c; live, 15¢@17¢; ducks, 11c@12c.

Hogs—7.50¢@8.10. Sheep—8¢; lambs, $8.00@8.90.

Feed—(Retail) Oil meal, $1.65@1.70 per 100 lbs.; bran, $1.25@1.35; standard middlings, $1.30; flour middlings, $1.45.

CRUEL. Artist—I'd like to devote my last picture to a charitable purpose. Friend—You're not giving it to an institution for the blind?

ABE MARTIN

Folks with a clear conscience kin stand almost anything—even a virtuoso concert. We all run in debt for things we wouldn't think o' payin' cash for.

COPENHAGEN

By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

Copenhagen, the capital of Denmark and general receiving station for north pole discovery reports, is not seriously infested with American tourists, owing to the fact that it is hard to impress any one in this country with any by talking about Copenhagen.

Copenhagen is a city of half a million people, only a very few of whom are ill-mannered. It is nearing its 1,000th birthday and there is nothing monotonous in its history. It began business on a small island, gradually spreading to others until it covered an entire archipelago, and spent most of its spare cash for bridges. Whenever any northern power from 1100 to 1800 ran out of other enemies it attacked Copenhagen. The city has been bombarded by Swedes, Saxons, Norwegians, Germans, Dutch and English, but has always been found doing business at the same old stand afterward.

Copenhagen runs largely to bridges, art galleries and Thorvaldsen statues. Thorvaldsen was a citizen of Copenhagen and whenever a public building was built during his life he carved up a boat load of marble for its ornament. Hans Christian Andersen, who lived near Copenhagen, wrote a great many fairy tales about the city, but they were not as universally believed as the "one which Dr. Cook told the University of Copenhagen a few years ago."

Copenhagen has a real king and plenty of palaces, but it is not all gummed up with pride about it. It is one of the few cities in the world where one can get up in a street car and give a seat to a princess or stop the king on the street corner and borrow a light from him. Copenhagen is very democratic and has no substitute for Fifth avenue.

Today's Edgerton News

STOUGHTON AND EDGERTON YOUNG PEOPLE ENJOY DANCE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Edgerton, Feb. 10.—A most pleasant social event took place here last night in Academy Hall, being a special invitation party and dance planned and carried out by Stoughton and Edgerton young people. A large number were in attendance and the event was greatly enjoyed by all. Warren's orchestra furnished the music.

Seeing robins at this time of the year, according to the old tradition, is always a sign of early spring. Sunday, in spite of the cold, in fact the coldest of the season, four robins were seen at a warm point on the banks of Rock river. The statement is almost unbelievable, but coming as it does from Chairman John Sherman of Fulton township it cannot be disputed.

Charles Atherton of Albany is here on a visit, the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Conn.

August Krueger, who for some time has been in Reedstown holding a position with a packing crew in a tobacco warehouse there, came home Saturday and returned again last evening.

H. C. Kravick left yesterday for Portage and Rio in the interest of the Edgerton Cigar Company.

Miss Jane Parr of Rockford made a stop here yesterday afternoon and called on relatives, being on her way home from the west.

Ernest Serus of Jefferson arrived here yesterday on business and will return today.

H. H. Dickenson, city treasurer, went to Janesville this morning on business.

Slipping on the floor in the rear end of his place of business one day last week and dislocating his ankle, Herman Bublitz has been in a precarious condition and almost unable to walk for lack of proper treatment. The pain is still quite serious, but it is thought that with careful nursing he will fully recover.

About fifty couples enjoyed a private dancing party given in Academy Hall last evening. Warren's six-piece auditorium orchestra of Stoughton furnished the music. Several couples from Stoughton were in attendance.

Deil McNeil of Stoughton spent yesterday with relatives here.

Mrs. N. S. Wigle very pleasantly entertained twelve ladies at a three course luncheon Saturday afternoon.

Joe Sawler departed for his home in Larchmont, Iowa, this afternoon, after spending two weeks with relatives in this vicinity.

Ernest Peach of Porter took the train here to Chicago yesterday morning to enter a hospital there for an operation for appendicitis. He was accompanied by his brother, Fred Peach, and Dr. Cleary.

Miss Lucile Culton is the guest of Miss Katherine Sharp at Milton Junction. Miss Sharp is a Madison University student and is doing librarian work at the Junction for a few days.

Charles, the eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellogg, who has been ill for a number of days, is threatened with pneumonia.

The bridge club met at the home of Miss M. Pollard last evening. Mrs. Chas. Fritzsche captured the prize. Delightful refreshments were served at the close.

C. L. Culton, who has been seriously ill at his home here for several weeks, is improving daily.

A card party is scheduled for Wednesday evening at the T. A. & B. hall. Ernest Serus of Jefferson is here for a few days on business.

Brink Ogden returned from Chicago last evening.

Miss Lovina Glau of Stoughton was over Sunday guest of the Misses Selma and Louise Jensen.

John Palminter spent yesterday in Harvard.

Miss Myra Lyntz returned to Chicago today to resume her studies at the millinery school.

been definitely made, but services will probably be held Wednesday afternoon at the house and church. Rev. Ocon officiating. Interment will be in Maple Hill cemetery.

Mrs. S. Slater spent last week in Middleton with her daughter, Mrs. Pearl Luchsinger and family.

Harold Lewis of Baraboo spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis.

John Van Patten of Wauwatosa is visiting his father, James Van Patten. O. P. Baird of Chicago was a business visitor here yesterday.

A regular meeting of the Eastern Star was held last night.

The Tuesday Night club of the M. E. church enjoy a sleigh ride and social evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson tonight.

Today's Evansville News

JOHN BAUM DIES AT EVANSVILLE HOME

Former Resident of Dane County
Passes Away of Lung Trouble at Age of 56 Years.

Evansville, Feb. 10.—John Baum passed away at five o'clock yesterday afternoon after a brief illness with congestion of the lungs. Deceased was born in Chester county, Pennsylvania, Oct. 18, 1858, and came to Wisconsin with his wife, Mrs. M. I. A. Baum when eleven years old. The family settled on a farm in Oregon, where they resided five years. In 1894 he was united in marriage to Miss Martha Moore of Red Wood Falls, Minn. The family made their home on a farm near Evansville (Hutts' Corners) for five or six years, when they moved to Arkansas. At the last place he lived for three years when they again returned to Evansville where Mr. Baum entered the employ of the Baker Manufacturing company, which position he has held for thirteen years.

Mrs. A. Baum, mother of deceased, departed this life about five months ago, her husband passing away ten years before her.

Baum leaves, beside a wide circle of friends, his wife, his widow, daughter, Vera, and son, Charles of this city, a brother, William of California, Jake and Wesley of Waukegan, a sister, Mrs. Sarah O'Neil of Waukegan and a sister, Mrs. Mary Johnson of this place.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

SAMUEL GOSS PASSES AWAY AT BELLOIT HOME

Afton, Feb. 10.—Samuel Goss died at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning at his home, 1026 Eleventh street, Beloit, Wisconsin, after an illness of three weeks, most of that time having been confined to his bed.

Immediate cause of his death was pneumonia which developed Friday night, after which he sank rapidly, passing quietly away this morning. Mr. Goss was born near Toronto, Canada, May 4, 1841. At three years of age he came with his parents to Wisconsin and settled in the town of Newark, later moving to the town of Rock. In 1867 he moved to Beloit, Wisconsin, and has lived there and in the vicinity of Beloit ever since. Living between Afton and Janesville for a number of years on a farm which he purchased and later sold, Mr. Goss was probably one of the best known men in and around the city of Beloit, and had a very large circle of acquaintance throughout the towns of Rock and Beloit. In September, 1896, Mr. Goss was married to Mrs. Mary Griffen, who survives him. He also leaves one brother, Arthur Goss, of Beloit.

The funeral will be held at two o'clock Wednesday from the house. Interment in the Goss lot in the Beloit City cemetery.

Charles Griffen was called to Beloit Sunday evening because of the serious illness of his brother-in-law, Samuel Goss, who passed away that night.

Owing to the extreme cold Sunday no service was held in the Baptist church.

Mrs. Etta Otis has been on the sick list, but is better.

Miss Brinkman with a force of help filled the Afton creamery ice house Thursday with a very good quality of ice.

HEAD AND NOSTRILS STUFFED FROM COLD

"Pape's Cold Compound" ends colds and Grippe in few hours—Tastes nice—Acts gently.

Your cold will break and all gripe misery end after taking a dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" every two hours until three doses are taken.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling. Ease your throbbing head—nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only 25 cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Accept no substitute.

4% Interest For Five Months

All money deposited in our

Savings Department on or before February 10th draws

4% interest on July 1, 1914.

Start an account NOW.

THE BANK OF EVANSVILLE

Evansville, Wis.

Founded 1870.

GEO. L. PULLEN, Pres.

Follow the Crowds To Rehberg's Removal Sale Superb Suits and Overcoats at Ridiculously Low Prices

When You See An Opportunity As Good As This

One You May Be Sure It Won't Last Long.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE TO SELL MERITORIOUS GARMENTS AT THE PRICES WE QUOTE THE YEAR 'ROUND. WE COULD NOT STAY IN BUSINESS IF WE DID. THE REASON WE DO IT NOW IS THAT WE HAVE JUST COMPLETED OUR INVENTORY AND ARE PREPARING TO MOVE TO OUR NEW HOME ON THE CORNER OF MILWAUKEE AND RIVER STREETS AND WISH TO REDUCE OUR STOCKS. WE MUST CONVERT CERTAIN LINES INTO CASH. THAT'S WHY WE OFFER YOU SUCH UNUSUAL ADVANTAGES; YOU'LL REALIZE THE GREATNESS OF THE ADVANTAGE WHEN YOU SEE THE GOODS. COME TOMORROW!

Fine Suits and Overcoats,
$8.50 $10.50 $14.45 $17.45 $18.50

MEN'S SHOES

Dress shoes, ball or blucher cuts in gun metal, vici kid, veal, calf, Russian tan or patent leather, single or double half soles, very stylish, desirable and reliable shoes, $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50.

WOMEN'S SHOES

Wonderful values in women's gun metal and patent button boots, all sizes and widths at $2.50. Our other values at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 cannot be approached for downright value anywhere else in this town.

WE HAVE THE LARGEST STOCK OF SHOES IN THIS CITY, EMBRACING EVERYTHING THAT IS DESIRABLE AND RELIABLE AND CAN FIT YOUR FOOT.

AMOS REHBERG CO.,

Number Ten Main Street South

Clothing, Shoes and Furnishings

GREAT SALE SECOND FLOOR, CURTAINS,
CURTAIN MATERIALS,
BED SPREADS, BLANKETS, ETC.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

GRAND FINAL CLEARANCE OF ALL OUR TAILOR MADE SUITS AND COATS.

Grand Final Odd Lot Clean Up-Sale

Record Breaking Values Are Offered In This Great Sale.

This is a Clearance Sale in real earnest. A determined effort to close out all surplus stocks, odd lots and broken lines at any cost.

SPRING MERCHANDISE IS BEGINNING TO ARRIVE DAILY, AND WE ARE HARD PRESSED FOR ROOM. NO MATTER WHAT YOU NEED, YOU CAN BE CERTAIN OF SATISFYING YOUR WANTS DURING THIS SALE AT ENORMOUS SAVINGS.

Undermuslins at A Big Reduction South Room

One lot of Women's Muslin Skirts, Drawers and Gowns, all sizes, slightly soiled, worth 75c, sale price... 42c
One lot of Women's Muslin Gowns and Skirts, slightly soiled and mused, worth up to $1.25, sale price 79c
One lot of Women's Corset Covers, lace and embroidery trimmed, very special... 19c

Great Values In Sheetings, Towels, Crash, Etc.

Remnants of Table Linens, accumulated from our linen sale, go at a big reduction.
Unbleached Sheetting, 84 inches wide, good quality, very special, yard... 23c
Bleached Sheetting, 2 1/4 yards wide, excellent quality, very special, yard... 25c
All Linen Huck Towels, size 22x40 inches, regular 35c value, at... 29c
One lot of Unbleached Wash Cloths, worth 5c each, 1 dozen for... 35c
Unbleached Linen Crash Toweling, 18 inches wide, special yard... 8c

Lace Specials Main Aisle

One big lot of Imitation Cluny Insertions, 4 to 6 inches wide, values up to 25c, sale price... 10c

Grand Final Clean-Up Of Marabou Scarfs and Muffs

One lot of Marabou Scarfs, worth up to $8.00, sale price at... $2.98
Our entire stock of Marabou Scarfs and Muffs go on sale at a Big Saving.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

The Home Beauty Parlor

by Betty Dean

Lily: You will find shampooing with a responsible caution dissolved in a cup of water is a quick and pleasing way to get the scalp clean and healthy. The scalp is this a cleanser and invigorant is represented by the hair. If the hair dries, scaly and itchy or profusely falls out, the use of restored healthful vigor to the scalp and induced the hair to come plentifully, with a glossy and greatly improved color.

Madge: The best blood-cleanser I know of is Kardon because it acts on the kidneys and it as you say, you are advised it is an indication that your kidneys and blood need attention. To prepare the tonic, take one ounce (fluid ounce) of Kardon and add one half pint alcohol. Rub a little at a time well into the scalp and the hair will appear and you will keep your scalp healthy.

Exie: I brighten my eyes and rest them when tired by putting a little of the tonic on the corners of the eyes and on the lids with the same. I make the tonic by getting an ounce of crystals from a drug store and dissolving in a pint of clear water. It will not smart and is soothing and healing. The sparkling and expressing

Lorelei: Even the woman of middle age nowadays is determined to keep her

Betty Dean's Beauty Book, $5. Advertisement.

For the Morning Appetite.—Fry two eggs, melt and pour over three table-spoonfuls of butter; add a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and serve.

DR. L. A. SAYRE said to a lady of the nation (a patient): "As you ladies will use them, I recommend Sayre's Cream as the least harmful of all the skin preparations." At druggists and Department Stores.

Ford T. Hopkins & Son, Props., 37 Grant Jones St., N.Y.C.

PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work"

Makers of Food Products since 1868

Janesville Electric Co.

PILLS

Sold everywhere. In boxes, 10c., 25c.

Electric Co.

HEAD COVERED WITH DRY SCALE

Hair Came Out. Head Itched and Bled. Could Not Attend School. Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and One Box Cuticura Ointment Cured.

2760 Tamm Ave., St. Louis, Mo. — "My little daughter's head began with a dry harsh scale covering it. First it got a white scale over the top and then it got a dirty brown scab with pus running out. Her hair came out in less than a week and her head itched and bled. She had no rest. I had her wear a scarf all the time. It looked so badly. She was so sore and had such big brown scabs on her head that the teacher would not let her attend school.

"We took and had her treated for three months with no relief. She kept getting worse until I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap every third day and the Cuticura Ointment at night. After three days the scabs began to come off and new hair to come in. In three weeks her head was well of sores. Two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment completely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. Walter Rogers, Nov. 28, 1912.

Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. A single set is often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card to Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.

*Cuticura men shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap and find it best for skin and scalp.

CAINVILLE CENTER

Cainville Center, Feb. 9.—Mrs. Ben Maples is ill at the present writing with pneumonia. Dr. Spencer of Evansville is attending her.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kleinsmith welcomed a son at their home Feb. 9.

Clayton Honeysett was a Madison visitor Thursday and Friday.

Miss Florence Poynter returned to her home Saturday. She spent the week sewing for Mrs. C. Rowland and Mrs. G. Townsend.

Florence Wolcott is taking care of the sick at Mr. Kleinsmith's. Sherman Brown was home over Sunday from Madison, where he is attending school.

Clayton Honeysett entertained two young men from Madison the last of the week.

Paul Chase was home from Thursday until Sunday.

Sunday was the coldest day of the season. Mercury, down to 20 degrees.

Warren Andrew visited the county seat Saturday.

War Andrew is working for Frank Bennett.

Mrs. A. F. Townsend and daughter were Evansville shoppers Saturday.

Mrs. Al. Siles went to Dayton last Tuesday to visit her brother and family. She returned Tuesday.

On account of the severe cold weather there were no services Sunday at the A. C. church.

George Brigham is receiving stock at the A. C. church.

The sleighing is fine and all are making good use of it.

MAGNOLIA

Magnolia, Feb. 9.—Mrs. T. Meely hauled corn from a carload at Magnolia station Monday.

Fred Woodstock delivered tobacco in Brodhead Saturday.

David Acheson took dinner with Mrs. Susie Mau.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Fraser and family spent over evening last week with Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harper.

On account of the severity of the weather there were no church services Sunday here.

Will Acheson, Jr., is spending a few days at T. G. Harper's.

The M. W. A. enjoyed a stag party at the hall Saturday night; those from away who attended were Messrs. Jake Bush and Peter Bartlett of Brodhead.

Miss Ella Harper is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harper.

MILTON

Milton, Feb. 9.—Messrs. Thorpe and Lange of Janesville made a business trip here Friday.

Prof. E. J. McKean of Sharon spent Sunday here.

Will H. Borden of Minneapolis visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Borden, last week.

Jack Hanson and wife of Fulton spent Sunday at L. C. Sunby's.

Thirteen below zero Sunday night, the record for 1913-14.

Mrs. J. D. Clarke left for West Virginia Monday to visit relatives.

The World's Favorite Beverage

Beer is absolutely pure, being entirely free from disease-laden germs so frequently found in milk and water. It is the one beverage that cannot be adulterated or tampered with from the time it leaves the manufacturer until it reaches the customer.

Beer acts as a tonic, and, for this reason, has received the hearty endorsement of leading medical and scientific authorities the world over.

Eminent ecclesiastical authorities have long recognized beer as an important factor in the world's campaign for temperance, and have not hesitated to recommend its use in moderation.

WISCONSIN BREWERS' ASSOCIATION

NEGATIVE TRIO TO MEET FREEPORTERS

First of 1914 League Debates Will Precede Madison-Janesville Contest on Friday.

The first debate of the 1914 season will take place on Friday afternoon, immediately at the close of school, in the assembly room of the local high school, in which contest the local affirmative trio will meet the negative team representing the Freeport high school. Both schools are members of the Beloit college debating league, which organization has proven a big success in past years.

Karl Frick, Carl Schoof and George Spohn compose the local affirmative speakers, who will argue that the literacy test is the most desirable method in further restricting foreign immigration into the United States. They expect to meet some strong competition in Freeport, as the Illinois town has always held a reputation for being leaders in Illinois in this contest activity.

Under the careful instruction of several faculty coaches, the local team will be ready by Friday to meet their foes on the platform. Each individual speaker has made an extra effort in forming strong rebuttal arguments, hoping that these will carry them into successful territory. The main speeches cannot be improved upon at present is the idea.

Al through the southern portion of Wisconsin and northern Illinois, various high schools and members of the college league will be arguing the same question. Each team is represented by two teams, consequently each school will have two debaters, with the exception of two debaters, with the exception of two debaters, with the exception of two debaters.

The debate Friday afternoon will start about four o'clock. Both the Freeport school and Prof. Buell have exchanged lists of judges, and all preparations are formulated to have this event a fitting beginning for the championship basketball conflict with Madison.

Several mass meetings will be held during the week, when new songs and yells will be taught the students. The two debate teams, led by Allen Dearborn and Louis Hayes, will form Friday at both activities, with uniforms and the loyal support of the students, will, without a doubt, excel all other teams, which has been held in the past.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Feb. 9.—Ben Reuli has been among those who are sick the past few days and has been unable to be at the store.

E. C. Anderson came down from Brownstown on Saturday evening and is spending a few days with his parents.

There was but a small attendance at either church in the village on Sunday owing to the extreme weather.

Mrs. M. J. Sampson has been on the sick list for a number of days. She is somewhat improved at this time.

Thermometers registered from 12 to 15 degrees below zero in the village on Sunday morning, and remained below the zero mark for the greater part of the day.

Mrs. Ed Erickson of Beloit was in town on Sunday visiting with friends, and returned to her home on Monday morning.

On account of the excessive cold the illustrated lecture that was to have been given at the Plymouth M. E. church on Sunday evening was postponed until Monday evening, when it was given to a good audience.

On Friday evening a medium sized gray horse with a bridle on walked into the farm yard of T. O. Rime, and to its ownership had been ascertained.

Lydia Bernstein and Myrtle Greer, wait of Brodhead were over Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rowland.

About twelve dollars was realized at the box social given by the pupils of the school on Saturday evening. Boxes sold at prices ranging from thirty-five cents to above the dollar mark.

ROCK PRAIRIE

Rock Prairie, Feb. 9.—The meetings at the U. P. church have been very well attended during the past week. They will continue till next Friday evening and communion services will be held next Sunday.

Miss Margaret McLay came home Thursday for a few days' vacation from the College.

Miss Thelma Withersell of Janesville spent the week end as a guest of Miss Mary Mansur.

Miss Briggs of Janesville spent a few days at the home of J. Z. McLay last week.

Mrs. Hannah Edden is a visitor at the home of Ed Mansur.

Miss Mabel Rumpf entertained the Embroidery Club last Saturday afternoon.

MISS NELLIE GOLDEN WEDS MATTHEW DUGGAN

Town Line, Feb. 10.—This morning at St. Patrick's church, Janesville, the marriage of Miss Nellie Golden, town of Rock, to Matthew Duggan, of the town of Beloit, took place, the Rev. Father Mahoney officiating. The young couple were attended by Miss Bee McCarthy, town of Beloit, and Edward Duggan, of Portland avenue, Beloit.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Duggan left for Chicago for a week's stay, after which they will be at home at the Golden home in the town of Rock, which the groom has recently purchased. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John Golden of the town of Rock, and a most estimable young lady. The groom is a son of Mrs. Julia Duggan, and highly respected.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Duggan have a host of friends who extend hearty congratulations.

A merry party of young folks enjoyed a sleigh ride to Beloit Saturday evening with the object in view of giving Miss Mildred Plumb, a former resident of this place, a surprise, which was accomplished.

A delicious supper was served after a social evening had been spent, all enjoying a thoroughly good time. The following made up the party: The Misses Anderson, Florence Jones, Mabel Simpson, Hilda Olson, and Messrs. William Pollard, Lloyd Jones, Edward Jones, Harry Harstad, Raymond Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Plumb, who accompanied the party.

Henry Smith "Big Bill" who has been seriously ill with bronchitis, is slightly improved.

Mrs. Paul Kosche of Chicago, has been spending some time at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Kiffendahl.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moody are on a visit with Mr. Moody's mother and sister at El Dorado, Kansas.

Miss Jessie Walters is convalescent after a recent sick spell.

Arthur Jackson's handsome Chickering piano, which was damaged in the cyclone last fall, has been returned from the factory, where it was sent for repairs. This was about the only article of furniture that would admit of repair.

Clifford and George Mallers delivered their four-acre crop of tobacco at Janesville Saturday. A good sum was realized from the crop.

MILTON JUNCTION

Milton Junction, Feb. 9.—Miss Lois Morris was a week-end guest of her cousin, Miss Nellie Morris, at Janesville.

Prof. Gahagan has gone to Madison to spend a month at the sanatorium. His position will be filled by Prof. Adams of Madison.

Mr. and Mrs. Finch and Mrs. Ray Kidder spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Avon Rye near Johnston.

The King's Daughters will meet Tuesday afternoon with Miss Nettie Coon.

P. Ellikson of Edgerton was in town to see about taking Mr. Chambers' tobacco, which he purchased some time ago.

Miss Winifred Goodrich and Miss Vera Smith have returned to Madison to resume their work at the University of Wisconsin.

Misses Ollie Hinkley and Emma Craig were Janesville shoppers Saturday.

Verna Bullis of Madison spent Saturday here.

Miss Kittie Morris spent Sunday with Miss Jess Dudley at Janesville.

WEST CENTER

West Center, Feb. 10.—William Miller has recently hauled a carload of corn from Footville to where he had it shipped.

Several from here attended the sale of John Collins on the Madison road last Thursday.

Charles Winkelman called on Rev. Zellmer and family at Evansville between trains last Tuesday.

We had the only "real" snow storm of the season Friday and nearly everyone was on runners now.

There will be no services at the Evangelical church next Sunday as the preacher has to go to Brodhead.

Sunday was the coldest day of this winter, reports of temperature ranging from 7 to 14 below zero.

BRODHEAD

Brodhead, Feb. 9.—L. E. Ward was a Saturday visitor in Whitewater.

Misses Jean Stewart and Lindakugel of Aberdeen, South Dakota, were guests from Thursday until Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett.

Attorney Frank Jenks was a Janesville visitor Saturday.

Byron Boughton of Fulda, Minn., is visiting relatives hereabouts.

Miss Lena V. Newcomer was the guest of Monroe friends Saturday.

Miss Tillie Burl of Monroe spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wall Hall.

Miss Mercedes Wilson was home from Beloit to spend Saturday and Sunday with her parents.

Misses Lottie Kildow and Ruth Douglas were visitors in Janesville on Saturday.

Editor O. G. Briggs of the Albany Visitor was a visitor in Brodhead Saturday.

Miss Ina Van Skike is in Madison on account of the illness of her sister, Mrs. O. G. Lawton.

Arrangements are complete for the annual Charity Ball to be held in Brodhead's Opera House on Thursday, February 12th.

Pearl Lodge No. 34 K. of P. will observe the 50th anniversary of the founding of the order by banquet and literary program in Brodhead's Opera House on the evening of Wednesday, February 18.

Dr. J. L. Meek met with an accident on Saturday. While attempting to run around the back of a wagon he came in contact with some lumber which struck him across the nose, knocking him down, from which he suffered two broken ribs.

MAGNOLIA CENTER

Magnolia Center, Feb. 9.—Hattie Harnack is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Brigham at Evansville.

Miss Marie Meely visited Mr. and Mrs. P. Riley at Janesville Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. Bishop was an Albany visitor Saturday.

Mrs. J. O'Neil still remains in very poor health.

A number from here attended a card party which took place Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Meely at Evansville.

Mrs. Milbrandt and family are entertaining relatives from Iowa and Monroe.

Mr. Harper spent Saturday at the parental home.

Mrs. T. Meely visited relatives at Evansville Wednesday.

The thermometer registered eighteen degrees below zero Sunday morning.

Mrs. J. Gorey is at Chicago caring for the sick at T. Gorey's. Both mother and children are doing nicely.

JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, Feb. 9.—Fifteen degrees below zero Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McKeown entertained a company of twenty-one friends Saturday at a goose dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Godfrey, who are in this week to their old home at Walton, Kansas, in hopes of benefiting Carlisle's health.

Mrs. P. J. McFarlane has returned home from a week's visit at Fort Atkinson.

Arthur Pratt and son Fred were recent guests of her brother, Fred Chesmor, and family of Harmony.

Miss Edith Bjorklund is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hugh Loomer of Millard, for a couple of weeks.

FOOTVILLE

Footville, Feb. 9.—Sunday was a day of genuine winter.

Our stores close Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of this week at 7:30, and after this week until April 4th all stores will close every night in the week at 7:30 except Wednesday and Saturday nights.

You are most cordially invited to attend the services every night this week at the Christian church. Rev. G. W. Schroeder is preaching the gospel and no one will be offended whatever your belief may be. Come.

Dr. J. B. Harvey entertained his sister a few days last week.

Miss Verna Spenser and Fred Daldock returned to Janesville Monday morning after spending Sunday with Miss Daisy Spenser.

Mrs. Lotta Knight arrived from Los Angeles, Cal., Friday noon to visit her parents.

Leon Spencer has purchased the restaurant-owned by Mrs. J. M. Fox and will take possession March 5th. All are glad to see him going to the town, but will occupy her house just south of the store.

August Albright and family leave Tuesday for their new home in Lake Mills. Mrs. Albright wishes of their many friends goes with them to their new home.

Leslie Smith and Ray Buck of Dayton spent Sunday at John Honeysett's. Evan Lowry and wife were out from Janesville.

Marsial Pierce and Elmer Kopp, from near Eau Claire, spent Sunday with Clayton Honeysett.

F. R. Lowry returned Saturday morning from attending the retail hardware men's convention in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Palmer, who have been visiting at the home of Wm. Pankhurst, have left for their home in Pennsylvania.

Miss Margaret Dillon of Janesville spent Sunday with Miss Maude Kennedy.

Miss Margie Silverthorn was a caller here from Evansville last Thursday.

John Kennedy has been suffering with grippe.

Next week Tuesday and Wednesday the Farmers' Institute will be held in Masonic Hall. A cooking school will be one of the features. The school children are preparing a program for Tuesday night. The ladies of the E. church will serve dinner Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. A. Edgerton, and the Ladies' Aid of the Christian church will serve dinner Wednesday in the church basement, to which you are most cordially invited. Come and bring the family.

ALBION

Albion, Feb. 6.—Ellsworth and Elton Ayers were in Janesville Tuesday. S. Jenks, who has been visiting with relatives in Lake Mills for a few days returned home Monday.

Mrs. Herman Stark and family of Edgerton visited at the Stark home from Saturday until Tuesday.

Leo Lund has enrolled as a preparatory student at the Albion Academy. The annual banquet of the Campus Club was held at the home of Mrs. Eldon Crandall of Kilton Junction on Thursday.

Has returned home after a few days' visit with friends and relatives.

E. T. Williams is ill with erysipelas. Mr. and Mrs. William McCarthy was in Janesville last week, one day, to consult Dr. Munn concerning her shoulder which was dislocated some time ago.

Roy Hayes assisted with the work at the creamery Wednesday. Otto Krueger was away on business in Madison.

Charles F. Stark transacted business in Janesville Tuesday.

Mrs. Herman Stark of Edgerton called on her father, C. C. Reuter, skid Monday.

The Whitford brothers were busy engaged on Wheeler prairie sawing wood in that locality this week.

Indispensable Plow. Plowing is the father of industries, the indispensable primary operation upon which civilization has depended from the earliest ages, and the plow is thus the most useful and necessary implement which has ever been designed by mankind for his own advancement. Without the plow agriculture is impossible, and without agriculture no industry can exist—From "Electricity for the Farm and Home," by Frank Koester.

Read the Gazette Want ads.

Eats Freely But Has No Dyspepsia

A Little Pepsin in a Mild Laxative Promptly Corrected a Bad Indigestion.

Fortunate is the one who can eat "anything" without suffering the tortures of dyspepsia, but as few are so fortunate, care should be taken in the matter of diet. Eating slowly, masticating the food thoroughly and taking a short walk after the heavy meal of the day will do much towards assisting digestion. Any grown-up person ought to know the peculiar foods that do not agree, and these should be avoided.

When these common-sense aids fail, the next thing to do is to take a mild digestive tonic with laxative properties, and there is none better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains the greatest of all aids to digestion, good pepsin. It has other ingredients that act mildly on the bowels, which together form a combination for the relief of dyspepsia or indigestion that is unsurpassed.

Its action is to tone and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they can again do their work naturally without outside aid, and when that happy moment comes all medicine can be dispensed with. It is the best remedy obtainable for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, for dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, headaches, drowsiness, nervousness, gas on the stomach, after eating, or users will testify to this, among them Mr. J. W. Goucher, Stites, Idaho, who for several years had all the worst symptoms of chronic dyspepsia. Since taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin these have all gone, and although Mr. Goucher says he is 64, he does not look more than 40.

J. W. GOUCHER

Syrup Pepsin is sure in its results, and a vast improvement over chewing or swallowing tablets and pills, which are harsh and nauseous and at best do but temporary good. You can store for fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it postpaid by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 419 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. A postal card with your name and address on it will do.

OPENING WEEK SALE At the New Milwaukee STORE 114 East Milwaukee Street NOW IN FULL SWING

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE HAVE CROWDED THE NEW STORE AND APPRECIATED OUR SYSTEM AND BARGAINS OF ALL NEW AND UP-TO-DATE MERCHANDISE IN LADIES' CLOAKS, SUITS, MILLINERY, FURS; MEN'S AND BOYS' CLOTHING, FURNISHINGS, DRY GOODS AND GENERAL MERCHANDISE WHICH IS BEING SOLD AT THE GREATEST SAVING TO THE PEOPLE OF JANESVILLE AND SURROUNDING COUNTIES. HERE ARE A FEW EXTRA SPECIALS OF THE THOUSANDS OF BARGAINS IN THE STORE WAITING FOR YOU. SPECIALS BEGINNING TOMORROW.

EXTRA SPECIAL--1500 Yards Dress Goods, 17c Worth 50c, at

Coats	Coats	Coats	Coats	Coats
For Women	For Women	For Children special	For Misses	For Misses
worth $10.00	worth $25.00		worth to $12.50	worth to $15.00
3.95	8.88	1.19	4.95	6.75
		and up.
Dresses	Dresses	Furs	Aprons	Waists
Serges, worth to $5.00 and up	Samples worth to $10.00	Per set	No sleeves, worth 50c	Flannel worth to 75c
2.69	3.85	3.90	27c	47c
		and up.
Men's Collars	Men's Sweaters	Men's Shirts	Men's Underw'r	Men's Suits
worth 10c	worth $2.00	worth 50c	worth 50c
5c	1.19	19c	29c	4.95
				and up.
Underw'r	Threads	Ribbons	Gloves	Hats
For children worth 25c	HOOKS AND EYES	SAFETY PINS	Children's Hose worth to 25c	hand trimmed worth to $3.50
15c	1½c	3c	9c	57c

THE LEVINSON CO.

We ARE Now Showing

THE COMPLETE LINE OF

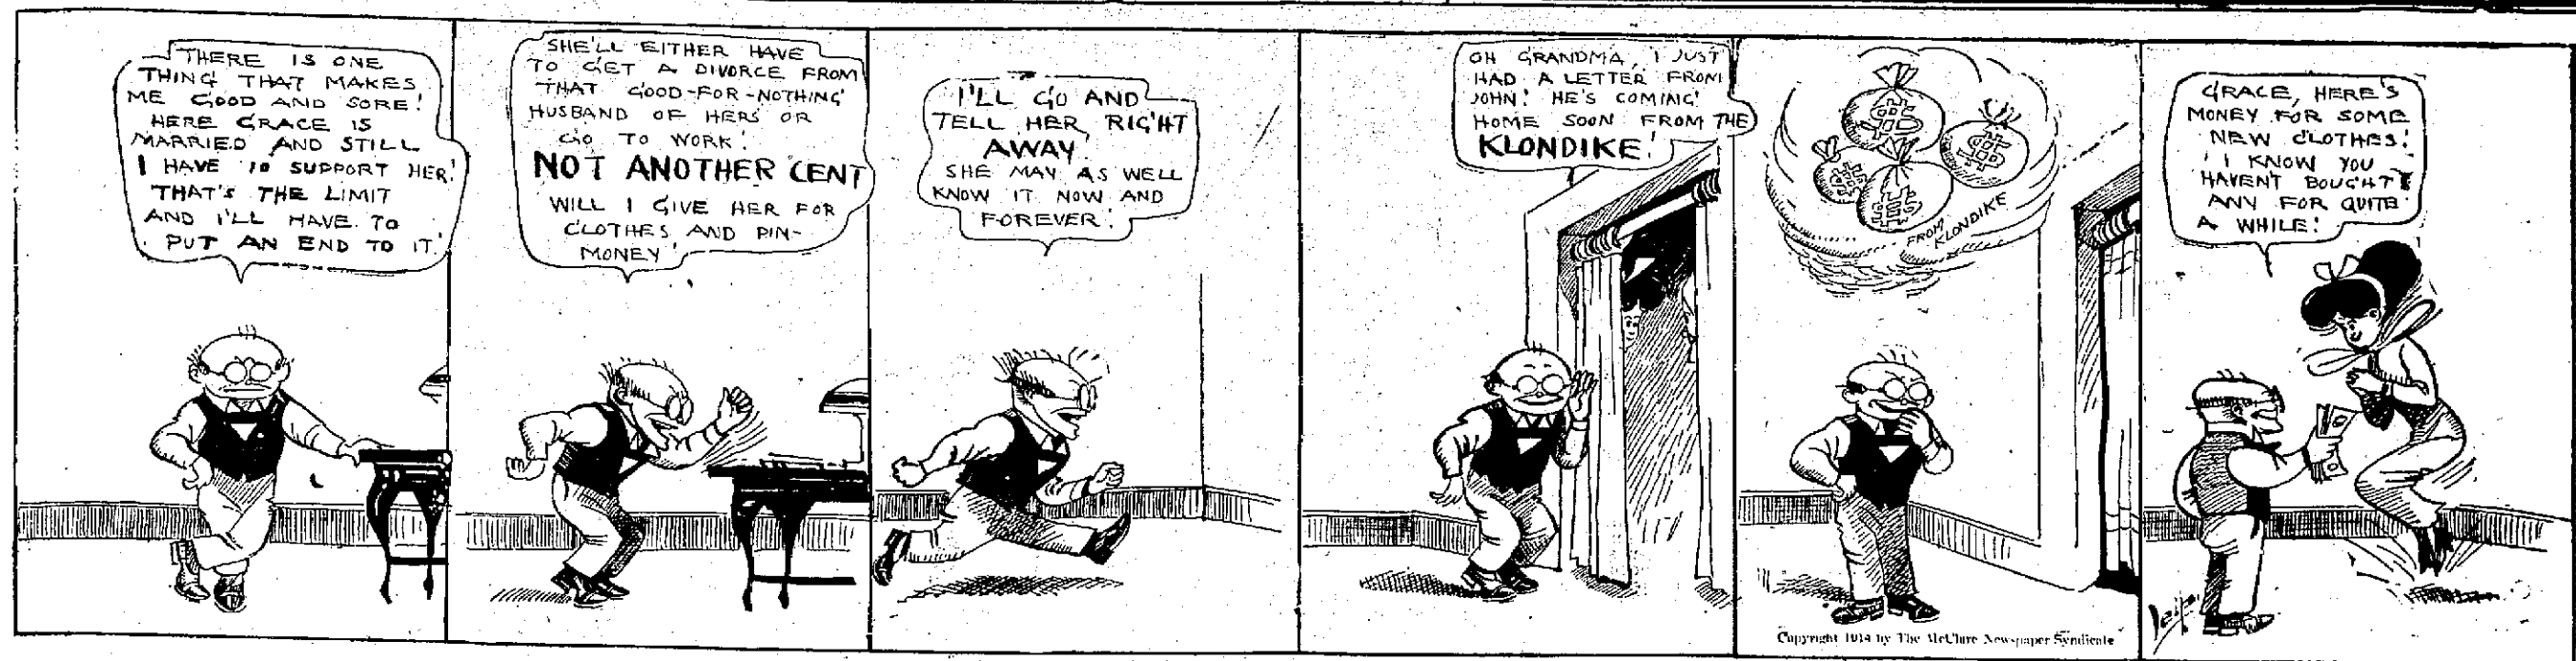

Alfred Peats

WALL PAPER

Including their special book of Fine Papers Same as shown in their large Wabash Ave. retail store.

Call and See The New Styles

Oak and White En

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Father evidently has a "Hunch"—

By F. LEIPZIGER

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Cheap and Easily Made, But Ends a Cough Quickly
How to Make the Very Best Cough Remedy at Home. Fully Guaranteed.

This pint of cough syrup is easily made at home and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It relieves obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—quickly, and is splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, spasmodic croup and hoarseness.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative, both excellent features. Pinex, as you probably know, is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in quinine and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this mixture, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful combination has never been equalled. It is immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Health Restored by Eckman's Alternative

Glandular trouble, very frequently diagnosed by physicians as "Tuberculosis of the Glands," has been found to yield to Eckman's Alternative. The treatment of Eckman's Alternative is a medicine which during the past fifteen years has brought many recoveries even in a number of supposed hopeless cases. Read this: "Gentlemen: In March, 1909, my doctor pronounced my case 'Tuberculosis of the Glands.' He said that the only chance in a hospital failed to benefit me. In the meantime a friend of mine advised Eckman's Alternative. The medicine is in my hands and I am in a delightful condition when I started to take it. After using two bottles I found I was improving. The doctor said I was cured and I was able to sleep. I continued using it until I was well, which was in November, 1910. On November 11, 1910, I started to work, and since that time I have not lost one day's work through sickness. I highly recommend Eckman's Alternative to anyone who is suffering from Gland trouble. (Address) JOSEPH B. WHITE, (Above abbreviated name on request.) Eckman's Alternative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious in the various Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Pharyngitis, Stomach and Bowel troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons, or irritating drugs. Write to Eckman's Alternative, Philadelphia, Pa., for catalogue. For sale by all leading druggists and Smith Drug Co., McCue and Buss, Peoples' Drug Co., in Janesville.

The Hollow of Her Hand

By GEORGE BARR MCCUTCHEON

Author of "Gruelstark," "Trustee King," etc.

Illustrations by Elsworth Young

Copyright, 1912, by George Barr McCutcheon. Copyright, 1912, by Dodd, Mead & Company.

"Is that the inn?" she asked as he swerved from the road a few moments later.

"Yes, Mrs. Wrاندall. We're here."

"Is he in there?"

"Where you see that lighted window upstairs?" He tooted the horn vigorously as he drew up to the long, low porch. Two men dashed out from the doorway and clumsily assisted her from the car.

"Go right in, Mrs. Wrاندall," said Drake. "I will join you in a jiffy."

She walked between the two men into the feebly lighted office of the inn. The keeper of the place, a dreary-looking person with dread in his eyes, hurried forward. She stopped, stock still. Some one was brushing the stubborn, thickly caked snow from her long chinchilla coat.

"You must let me get you something hot to drink, madam," the landlord was saying dolorously.

She struggled with her veil, finally tearing it away from her face. Then she took in the rather bare, cheerless room with a slow, puzzled sweep of her eyes.

"No, thank you," she replied.

"It won't be any trouble, madam," urged the other. "It's right here. The sheriff says it's all right to serve it, although it is after hours. I run a respectable, law-abiding house. I wouldn't think of offering it to anyone if it was in violation."

"Never mind, Burton," interposed a big man, approaching. "Let the lady choose for herself. If she wants it, she'll say so. I am the sheriff, madam. This gentleman is the coroner, Dr. Sheef. We waited up for you after Mr. Drake said you'd got the fast train to stop for you. Tomorrow morning would have done quite as well. I'm sorry you came tonight in all this blizzard."

He was staring as if fascinated at the white, colorless face of the woman who with nervous fingers unfasted the heavy coat that enveloped her slender figure. She was young and strikingly beautiful, despite the intense pallor that overspread her face. Her dark, questioning, dreading eyes looked up into his with an expression he was never to forget. It combined dread, horror, doubt and a smoldering anger that seemed to overcast all other emotions that lay revealed to him.

"This is a—what is commonly called a 'road house'?" she asked dully, her eyes narrowing suddenly as if in pain.

"It is an inn during the winter, Mrs. Wrاندall, and a road house in the summer, if that makes it plain to you. I will say, however, that Burton has always kept well within the law. This is the first—er—real bit of trouble he's had, and I won't say it's his fault. Keep quiet, Burton. No one is accusing you of anything wrong. Don't whine about it."

"But my place is ruined," groaned the doleful one. "It's got a black eye now. Not that I blame you, madam, but you can see how—"

He quailed before the steady look in her eyes, and turned away mumbling.

"There is a fire in the reception room, madam," said the coroner; "and the proprietor's wife to look out for you if you should require anything. Will you go in there and compose yourself before going upstairs? Or, if you would prefer waiting until morning, I shall not insist on the—er—ordal tonight."

"I prefer going up there tonight," said she steadily.

The men looked at each other, and the sheriff spoke. "Mr. Drake is quite confident the man is your husband. It's an ugly affair, Mrs. Wrاندall. We had no means of identifying him until Drake came in this evening, out of curiosity you might say. For your sake, I hope he is mistaken."

"Would you mind telling me something about it before I go upstairs? I am quite calm. I am prepared for anything. You need not hesitate."

"As you wish, madam. You will go into the reception room, if you please. Burton, in Mrs. Wrاندall's room quite ready for her?"

"I shall not stay here tonight," interposed Mrs. Wrاندall. "You need not keep the room for me."

"But, my dear Mrs. Wrاندall—" "I shall wait in the railway station until morning if necessary. But not here."

The coroner led the way to the cozy little room off the office. She followed with the sheriff. The men looked worn and haggard in the bright light that met them, as if they had not known sleep or rest for many hours.

"The assistant district attorney was here until eleven, but went home to get a little rest. It's been a hard case for all of us—a nasty one," explained the sheriff, as he placed a chair in front of the fire for her. She sank into it limply.

"Go on, please," she murmured, and shook her head at the nervous little woman who bustled up and inquired if she could do anything to make her more comfortable.

The sheriff cleared his throat. "Well, it happened last night. All day long we've been trying to find out who he is, and ever since eight o'clock this morning we've been searching for the woman who came here with him. She has disappeared as completely as if swallowed by the earth. Not a sign of a clew—not a shred. There's nothing to show when she left the inn or by what means. All we know is that the door to that room up there was standing half open when Burton passed by it at seven o'clock this morning—that is to say, yesterday morning, for this is now Wednesday. It is quite clear, from this, that she neglected to close the door tightly when she came out, probably through haste, or fear, and the draft in the hall blew it wider open during the night. Burton says the inn was closed for the night at half-past ten. He went to bed. She must have slipped out after everyone was sound asleep. There were no other guests on that floor. Burton and his wife sleep on

"Did no one see the face of the woman?" asked Mrs. Wrاندall, rather querulously. "It seems odd that no one should have seen her face," she went on without waiting for an answer.

"It's not strange, madam, when you consider all the circumstances. She was very careful not to remove her veil or her coat until the door was locked. That proves that she was not the sort of woman we usually find galavanting around with men regardless

"He found the man lying on the bed, sprawled out, face upward and as dead as a mack— I should say, quite dead. He was partly dressed. His coat and vest hung over the back of a chair. A small service carving knife, belonging to the inn, had been driven squarely into his heart and was found sticking there. Burton says that the man, on their arrival at the inn, about nine o'clock at night, or thereabouts, went up to the room. The tray of dishes, with most of the food untouched, and an empty champagne bottle, was found on the service table near the bed. One of the chairs was overturned. The servant who took the meal to the room says that the woman was sitting at the window with her wraps on, motor veil and all, just as she was when she came into the place. The man gave all the directions, the woman apparently paying no attention to what was going on. The waitress left the room without seeing her face. She had instructions not to come for the tray until morn-

"That was the last time the man was seen alive. No one has seen the woman since the door closed after the servant, who distinctly remembers hearing the key turn in the lock as she went down the hall. It seems pretty clear that the man ate and drank but not the woman. Her food remained untouched on the plate and her glass was full. 'Gad, it must have been a merry feast!' I beg your pardon, Mrs. Wrاندall!"

"Go on, please," said she levelly. "That's all there is to say so far as the actual crime is concerned. There

"I see," said the sheriff, marveling. "Besides, Mr. Drake is not positive, put in the coroner hopefully."

"I am reasonably certain," said Drake.

"Then all the more reason why I should have the story first," said she, with a shiver that no one failed to observe.

The sheriff resumed his conclusions. "Women of the kind I referred to a moment ago don't care whether they're seen or not. In fact, they're rather brazen about it. But this one was different. She was as far from that as it was possible for her to be. We haven't been able to find anyone who saw her face or who can give the least idea as to what she looks like, excepting a general description of her figure, her carriage and the outdoor garments she wore. We have reason to believe she was young. She was modestly dressed. Her coat was one of those heavy ulster affairs, such as a woman uses in motoring or on a sea voyage. There was a small sable stole about her neck. The skirt was short, and she wore high black shoes of the thick walking type. Judging from Burton's description she must have been about your size and figure, Mrs. Wrاندall. Isn't that so, Mrs. Burton?"

The innkeeper's wife spoke. "Yes, Mr. Harben, I'd say so myself. About five feet six, I'd judge; rather slim and graceful like, in spite of the big coat."

Mrs. Wrاندall was watching the woman's face. "I am five feet six," she said, as if answering a question.

The sheriff cleared his throat somewhat needlessly.

"Burton says she acted as if she were a lady," he went on. "Not the kind that usually comes out here on such expeditions, he admits. She did not speak to anyone, except once in very low tones to the man she was with, and then she was standing by the fireplace out in the main office, quite a distance from the desk. She went upstairs alone, and he gave some orders to Burton before following her. That was the last time Burton saw her. The waitress went up with a specially prepared supper about half an hour later."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

"That was the last time the man was seen alive. No one has seen the woman since the door closed after the servant, who distinctly remembers hearing the key turn in the lock as she went down the hall. It seems pretty clear that the man ate and drank but not the woman. Her food remained untouched on the plate and her glass was full. 'Gad, it must have been a merry feast!' I beg your pardon, Mrs. Wrاندall!"

"Go on, please," said she levelly. "That's all there is to say so far as the actual crime is concerned. There

"I see," said the sheriff, marveling. "Besides, Mr. Drake is not positive, put in the coroner hopefully."

"I am reasonably certain," said Drake.

"Then all the more reason why I should have the story first," said she, with a shiver that no one failed to observe.

The sheriff resumed his conclusions. "Women of the kind I referred to a moment ago don't care whether they're seen or not. In fact, they're rather brazen about it. But this one was different. She was as far from that as it was possible for her to be. We haven't been able to find anyone who saw her face or who can give the least idea as to what she looks like, excepting a general description of her figure, her carriage and the outdoor garments she wore. We have reason to believe she was young. She was modestly dressed. Her coat was one of those heavy ulster affairs, such as a woman uses in motoring or on a sea voyage. There was a small sable stole about her neck. The skirt was short, and she wore high black shoes of the thick walking type. Judging from Burton's description she must have been about your size and figure, Mrs. Wrاندall. Isn't that so, Mrs. Burton?"

The innkeeper's wife spoke. "Yes, Mr. Harben, I'd say so myself. About five feet six, I'd judge; rather slim and graceful like, in spite of the big coat."

Mrs. Wrاندall was watching the woman's face. "I am five feet six," she said, as if answering a question.

The sheriff cleared his throat somewhat needlessly.

"Burton says she acted as if she were a lady," he went on. "Not the kind that usually comes out here on such expeditions, he admits. She did not speak to anyone, except once in very low tones to the man she was with, and then she was standing by the fireplace out in the main office, quite a distance from the desk. She went upstairs alone, and he gave some orders to Burton before following her. That was the last time Burton saw her. The waitress went up with a specially prepared supper about half an hour later."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

At this juncture Drake entered the room. Mrs. Wrاندall did not at first recognize him.

"It has stopped snowing," announced the newcomer.

"Oh, it is Mr. Drake," she murmured. "We have a little French car, painted red," she announced to the sheriff without giving Drake another thought.

"And this one is red, madam," said the sheriff, with a glance at the coroner. Drake nodded his head. Mrs. Wrاندall's body stiffened perceptibly, as if deflecting a blow. "It is still standing in the garage, where he left it on his arrival."

"Did no one see the face of the woman?" asked Mrs. Wrاندall, rather querulously. "It seems odd that no one should have seen her face," she went on without waiting for an answer.

"It's not strange, madam, when you consider all the circumstances. She was very careful not to remove her veil or her coat until the door was locked. That proves that she was not the sort of woman we usually find galavanting around with men regardless

"He found the man lying on the bed, sprawled out, face upward and as dead as a mack— I should say, quite dead. He was partly dressed. His coat and vest hung over the back of a chair. A small service carving knife, belonging to the inn, had been driven squarely into his heart and was found sticking there. Burton says that the man, on their arrival at the inn, about nine o'clock at night, or thereabouts, went up to the room. The tray of dishes, with most of the food untouched, and an empty champagne bottle, was found on the service table near the bed. One of the chairs was overturned. The servant who took the meal to the room says that the woman was sitting at the window with her wraps on, motor veil and all, just as she was when she came into the place. The man gave all the directions, the woman apparently paying no attention to what was going on. The waitress left the room without seeing her face. She had instructions not to come for the tray until morn-

"That was the last time the man was seen alive. No one has seen the woman since the door closed after the servant, who distinctly remembers hearing the key turn in the lock as she went down the hall. It seems pretty clear that the man ate and drank but not the woman. Her food remained untouched on the plate and her glass was full. 'Gad, it must have been a merry feast!' I beg your pardon, Mrs. Wrاندall!"

"Go on, please," said she levelly. "That's all there is to say so far as the actual crime is concerned. There

"I see," said the sheriff, marveling. "Besides, Mr. Drake is not positive, put in the coroner hopefully."

"I am reasonably certain," said Drake.

"Then all the more reason why I should have the story first," said she, with a shiver that no one failed to observe.

The sheriff resumed his conclusions. "Women of the kind I referred to a moment ago don't care whether they're seen or not. In fact, they're rather brazen about it. But this one was different. She was as far from that as it was possible for her to be. We haven't been able to find anyone who saw her face or who can give the least idea as to what she looks like, excepting a general description of her figure, her carriage and the outdoor garments she wore. We have reason to believe she was young. She was modestly dressed. Her coat was one of those heavy ulster affairs, such as a woman uses in motoring or on a sea voyage. There was a small sable stole about her neck. The skirt was short, and she wore high black shoes of the thick walking type. Judging from Burton's description she must have been about your size and figure, Mrs. Wrاندall. Isn't that so, Mrs. Burton?"

The innkeeper's wife spoke. "Yes, Mr. Harben, I'd say so myself. About five feet six, I'd judge; rather slim and graceful like, in spite of the big coat."

Mrs. Wrاندall was watching the woman's face. "I am five feet six," she said, as if answering a question.

The sheriff cleared his throat somewhat needlessly.

"Burton says she acted as if she were a lady," he went on. "Not the kind that usually comes out here on such expeditions, he admits. She did not speak to anyone, except once in very low tones to the man she was with, and then she was standing by the fireplace out in the main office, quite a distance from the desk. She went upstairs alone, and he gave some orders to Burton before following her. That was the last time Burton saw her. The waitress went up with a specially prepared supper about half an hour later."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

At this juncture Drake entered the room. Mrs. Wrاندall did not at first recognize him.

"It has stopped snowing," announced the newcomer.

"Oh, it is Mr. Drake," she murmured. "We have a little French car, painted red," she announced to the sheriff without giving Drake another thought.

"And this one is red, madam," said the sheriff, with a glance at the coroner. Drake nodded his head. Mrs. Wrاندall's body stiffened perceptibly, as if deflecting a blow. "It is still standing in the garage, where he left it on his arrival."

"Did no one see the face of the woman?" asked Mrs. Wrاندall, rather querulously. "It seems odd that no one should have seen her face," she went on without waiting for an answer.

"It's not strange, madam, when you consider all the circumstances. She was very careful not to remove her veil or her coat until the door was locked. That proves that she was not the sort of woman we usually find galavanting around with men regardless

"He found the man lying on the bed, sprawled out, face upward and as dead as a mack— I should say, quite dead. He was partly dressed. His coat and vest hung over the back of a chair. A small service carving knife, belonging to the inn, had been driven squarely into his heart and was found sticking there. Burton says that the man, on their arrival at the inn, about nine o'clock at night, or thereabouts, went up to the room. The tray of dishes, with most of the food untouched, and an empty champagne bottle, was found on the service table near the bed. One of the chairs was overturned. The servant who took the meal to the room says that the woman was sitting at the window with her wraps on, motor veil and all, just as she was when she came into the place. The man gave all the directions, the woman apparently paying no attention to what was going on. The waitress left the room without seeing her face. She had instructions not to come for the tray until morn-

"That was the last time the man was seen alive. No one has seen the woman since the door closed after the servant, who distinctly remembers hearing the key turn in the lock as she went down the hall. It seems pretty clear that the man ate and drank but not the woman. Her food remained untouched on the plate and her glass was full. 'Gad, it must have been a merry feast!' I beg your pardon, Mrs. Wrاندall!"

"Go on, please," said she levelly. "That's all there is to say so far as the actual crime is concerned. There

"I see," said the sheriff, marveling. "Besides, Mr. Drake is not positive, put in the coroner hopefully."

"I am reasonably certain," said Drake.

"Then all the more reason why I should have the story first," said she, with a shiver that no one failed to observe.

The sheriff resumed his conclusions. "Women of the kind I referred to a moment ago don't care whether they're seen or not. In fact, they're rather brazen about it. But this one was different. She was as far from that as it was possible for her to be. We haven't been able to find anyone who saw her face or who can give the least idea as to what she looks like, excepting a general description of her figure, her carriage and the outdoor garments she wore. We have reason to believe she was young. She was modestly dressed. Her coat was one of those heavy ulster affairs, such as a woman uses in motoring or on a sea voyage. There was a small sable stole about her neck. The skirt was short, and she wore high black shoes of the thick walking type. Judging from Burton's description she must have been about your size and figure, Mrs. Wrاندall. Isn't that so, Mrs. Burton?"

The innkeeper's wife spoke. "Yes, Mr. Harben, I'd say so myself. About five feet six, I'd judge; rather slim and graceful like, in spite of the big coat."

Mrs. Wrاندall was watching the woman's face. "I am five feet six," she said, as if answering a question.

The sheriff cleared his throat somewhat needlessly.

"Burton says she acted as if she were a lady," he went on. "Not the kind that usually comes out here on such expeditions, he admits. She did not speak to anyone, except once in very low tones to the man she was with, and then she was standing by the fireplace out in the main office, quite a distance from the desk. She went upstairs alone, and he gave some orders to Burton before following her. That was the last time Burton saw her. The waitress went up with a specially prepared supper about half an hour later."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

of—ahem, I beg your pardon. 'This must be very distressing to you.'

"I am not sure, Mr. Sheriff, that it is my husband who lies up there. Please remember that," she said steadily. "It is easier to hear the details now, before I know, than it will be afterward if it should turn out to be as Mr. Drake declares."

"I see," said the sheriff, marveling. "Besides, Mr. Drake is not positive, put in the coroner hopefully."

"I am reasonably certain," said Drake.

"Then all the more reason why I should have the story first," said she, with a shiver that no one failed to observe.

The sheriff resumed his conclusions. "Women of the kind I referred to a moment ago don't care whether they're seen or not. In fact, they're rather brazen about it. But this one was different. She was as far from that as it was possible for her to be. We haven't been able to find anyone who saw her face or who can give the least idea as to what she looks like, excepting a general description of her figure, her carriage and the outdoor garments she wore. We have reason to believe she was young. She was modestly dressed. Her coat was one of those heavy ulster affairs, such as a woman uses in motoring or on a sea voyage. There was a small sable stole about her neck. The skirt was short, and she wore high black shoes of the thick walking type. Judging from Burton's description she must have been about your size and figure, Mrs. Wrاندall. Isn't that so, Mrs. Burton?"

The innkeeper's wife spoke. "Yes, Mr. Harben, I'd say so myself. About five feet six, I'd judge; rather slim and graceful like, in spite of the big coat."

Mrs. Wrاندall was watching the woman's face. "I am five feet six," she said, as if answering a question.

The sheriff cleared his throat somewhat needlessly.

"Burton says she acted as if she were a lady," he went on. "Not the kind that usually comes out here on such expeditions, he admits. She did not speak to anyone, except once in very low tones to the man she was with, and then she was standing by the fireplace out in the main office, quite a distance from the desk. She went upstairs alone, and he gave some orders to Burton before following her. That was the last time Burton saw her. The waitress went up with a specially prepared supper about half an hour later."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

At this juncture Drake entered the room. Mrs. Wrاندall did not at first recognize him.

"It has stopped snowing," announced the newcomer.

"Oh, it is Mr. Drake," she murmured. "We have a little French car, painted red," she announced to the sheriff without giving Drake another thought.

"And this one is red, madam," said the sheriff, with a glance at the coroner. Drake nodded his head. Mrs. Wrاندall's body stiffened perceptibly, as if deflecting a blow. "It is still standing in the garage, where he left it on his arrival."

"Did no one see the face of the woman?" asked Mrs. Wrاندall, rather querulously. "It seems odd that no one should have seen her face," she went on without waiting for an answer.

"It's not strange, madam, when you consider all the circumstances. She was very careful not to remove her veil or her coat until the door was locked. That proves that she was not the sort of woman we usually find galavanting around with men regardless

"He found the man lying on the bed, sprawled out, face upward and as dead as a mack— I should say, quite dead. He was partly dressed. His coat and vest hung over the back of a chair. A small service carving knife, belonging to the inn, had been driven squarely into his heart and was found sticking there. Burton says that the man, on their arrival at the inn, about nine o'clock at night, or thereabouts, went up to the room. The tray of dishes, with most of the food untouched, and an empty champagne bottle, was found on the service table near the bed. One of the chairs was overturned. The servant who took the meal to the room says that the woman was sitting at the window with her wraps on, motor veil and all, just as she was when she came into the place. The man gave all the directions, the woman apparently paying no attention to what was going on. The waitress left the room without seeing her face. She had instructions not to come for the tray until morn-

"That was the last time the man was seen alive. No one has seen the woman since the door closed after the servant, who distinctly remembers hearing the key turn in the lock as she went down the hall. It seems pretty clear that the man ate and drank but not the woman. Her food remained untouched on the plate and her glass was full. 'Gad, it must have been a merry feast!' I beg your pardon, Mrs. Wrاندall!"

"Go on, please," said she levelly. "That's all there is to say so far as the actual crime is concerned. There

"I see," said the sheriff, marveling. "Besides, Mr. Drake is not positive, put in the coroner hopefully."

"I am reasonably certain," said Drake.

"Then all the more reason why I should have the story first," said she, with a shiver that no one failed to observe.

The sheriff resumed his conclusions. "Women of the kind I referred to a moment ago don't care whether they're seen or not. In fact, they're rather brazen about it. But this one was different. She was as far from that as it was possible for her to be. We haven't been able to find anyone who saw her face or who can give the least idea as to what she looks like, excepting a general description of her figure, her carriage and the outdoor garments she wore. We have reason to believe she was young. She was modestly dressed. Her coat was one of those heavy ulster affairs, such as a woman uses in motoring or on a sea voyage. There was a small sable stole about her neck. The skirt was short, and she wore high black shoes of the thick walking type. Judging from Burton's description she must have been about your size and figure, Mrs. Wrاندall. Isn't that so, Mrs. Burton?"

The innkeeper's wife spoke. "Yes, Mr.

